This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

COMMISSIONER

OF THE

FREEDMAN'S SAVINGS AND TRUST COMPANY

TO THE

FIRST SESSION OF THE SIXTIETH CONGRESS

FOR THE

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 1, 1907.

DECEMBER 16, 1907.

Referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency and ordered to be printed.

WASHINGTON:
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.
1907.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF THE
FREEDMAN'S SAVINGS AND TRUST COMPANY,
Washington, D. C., December 14, 1907.

SIR: I have the honor to hand you herewith the annual report of the commissioner of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company for the year ended December 1, 1907.

WM. B. RIDGELY, Commissioner.

Hon. JOSEPH G. CANNON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

REPORT.

OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF THE
FREEDMAN'S SAVINGS AND TRUST COMPANY,
Washington, D. C., December 14, 1907.

SIR: I have the honor to submit for the consideration of Congress the annual report of the commissioner of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company for the year ended December 1, 1907, required by section 5 of the act of February 21, 1881:

Cash balance at date of last report, December 1, 1906		$8,081.79
Receipts during the year:
To dividends paid on capital stock of the Second National Bank, Washington, D. C., held by the trust		240.00
		8,321.79
Disbursements during the year:
By salary of Commissioner	$1,000.00
By amount paid for clerical work	720.00
By amount paid for preparing and printing Commissioner's report to Congress for 1905	9.32
By amount of dividends paid	899.44
		2,628.76
Cash balance December 1, 1907		5,693.03

COLLECTIONS.

There has been collected during the year $240 as dividends upon $4,000 capital stock of the Second National Bank, Washington, D. C., held by the trust. The original cost of the forty shares was $3,625, and they are now valued at $6,000.

DIVIDENDS.

During the current year dividends have been paid under the act of March 3, 1899, amounting to $899.44, making a total paid to date under this act of $14,716.19. Of the 197 claims reported last year as suspended for proof, 8 have been proven up and paid, and there have been suspended during the same time 13 claims, making 202 claims now suspended for additional evidence. Much time is still required to examine and adjudicate claims presented, for which it is necessary to employ clerical help.

Available assets.

Description.	Face value.	Estimated value.
Cash balance	$5,693.03	$5,693.03
Second National Bank stock	4,000.00	6,000.00
Total	9,693.03	11,693.03

OUTSTANDING CHECKS.

The statement of outstanding checks December 1, 1907, is as follows:

Checks of Charles G. Dawes, Commissioner, outstanding	$156.68
Checks of William B. Ridgely, Commissioner:
Outstanding December 1, 1906	571.47
Issued during the year	2,628.76
Total	3,200.23
Checks paid during the year	2,922.17
Outstanding December 1, 1907	278.06

TOTAL DIVIDENDS PAID.

The following is a statement of dividends declared and paid to date:

At the time of the failure of the company, in 1874, there were 61,131 depositors, to whom there was due	$2,939,925.22
Five dividends were declared, amounting to 62 per cent, or	1,822,753.62
Of this amount there was paid before claims were barred	1,631,291.50
Barred claims paid under act of February 17, 1883	10,718.08
The act of March 3, 1899, provided for removing all bar to claims and paying depositors who had not yet received them the full 62 per cent of dividends declared. There has been paid to date under this latter act	14,716.19
There has also been paid special deposits and preferred claims to the amount of	73,565.03
Making total payments to date	1,730,290.80

I have the honor to renew my recommendation made last year that an act as given below be passed by Congress for the relief of these depositors:

A BILL To reimburse the depositors in the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company for losses incurred by the failure of said company.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Commissioner of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company and his successors in office be, and the same are hereby, authorized and directed to pay, or cause to be paid, under such regulations as said Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall prescribe, to all depositors of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company whose accounts have been properly verified and balanced under existing laws, or to their legal representatives, a sum of money equal to the verified balances due said depositors from said company at the time of its failure, less the amount of dividends which may have been paid from the assets of said company; and for this purpose the sum of one million dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury of the United States not otherwise appropriated, said amount to be placed to the credit of said Commissioner by the Secretary of the Treasury for the purpose in this act specified.

Respectfully,

WM. B. RIDGELY,
Commissioner.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

REPORT FOR FEBRUARY, 1907.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
San Juan, P. R., April 4, 1907.

SIR: I have the honor to forward herewith a copy of the account current of receipts and expenditures of the treasurer of Porto Rico with the people of Porto Rico for the month of February, 1907.

Respectfully,

BEEKMAN WINTHROP, Governor.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT OF PORTO RICO,
San Juan, P. R., April 3, 1907.

SIR: Pursuant to the provisions of section 22 of the act of Congress approved April 12, 1900, entitled "An act temporarily to provide revenues and a civil government for Porto Rico, and for other purposes," I have the honor to forward herewith a copy of my account current of receipts and expenditures, as treasurer of Porto Rico, with the people of Porto Rico, for the month of February, 1907.

Very respectfully,

W. F. WILLOUGHBY, Treasurer.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

OFFICE OF AUDITOR FOR THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
Washington, D. C., August 31, 1907.

APPENDIX.

EXHIBIT 1.—(T. D. 27414)—Rossed pulp wood.

UNITED STATES v. PIERCE.

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Second Circuit. June 7, 1906. No. 268 (suit 1595).

1. ROSSED PULP WOOD.—The expression "pulp-woods," in paragraph 699 of the free list of the tariff act of 1897, had at the time of the passage of the act no commercial signification differing from its ordinary meaning. It is a comprehensive, descriptive term intended to cover pulp wood in all forms. Rossed pulp wood is therefore included therein.
2. SAME—"UNMANUFACTURED TIMBER."—The rossing process whereby the bark, skin, rough places, and impurities in pulp wood are removed, is not such a process as would exclude rossed pulp wood from paragraph 699, tariff act of 1897, relating to "round unmanufactured timber, including pulp-woods." Rossed pulp wood is not manufactured timber in any true sense.
3. CONSTRUCTION—"INCLUDING."—In paragraph 699, tariff act of 1897, providing for "wood: logs and round unmanufactured timber, including pulp-woods, firewood," etc., "including" is used in the sense of "also," and does not require that the commodities to which it refers should be in the form of "round unmanufactured timber."

APPEAL from the circuit court of the United States for the district of Vermont.

The decision below (140 Fed. Rep., 962; T. D. 26820) affirmed a decision of the Board of United States General Appraisers, G. A. 5627 (T. D. 25166), in which the majority of the Board reversed the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Newport, Vt., on importations by C. W. Pierce.

William G. Thompson, for the United States.

Stetson, Jennings & Russell (Frederic B. Jennings of counsel), for the importer.

Before WALLACE, LACOMBE, and TOWNSEND, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM: The importations in controversy were invoiced as "rossed pulp wood" and consisted of spruce wood in the form of sticks or logs of about 10 inches diameter, cut in lengths of about 2 feet, and "rossed." They belong to the class of woods, chiefly poplar and spruce, used for making pulp in the manufacture of paper. Before the date of the present tariff act they were imported in various forms, cut into suitable lengths, sometimes with the bark on, generally with the bark peeled off, and occasionally, though seldom, "rossed"—that is, with the bark, skin, and rough places of the log removed by hand shaving or by a rossing machine. The primary object of peeling and rossing is to cheapen transportation by reducing the bulk and weight of the wood. But rossing is necessary when the wood is to be used in making high-grade pulp, and is done to a limited extent to logs which have been already peeled by pulp makers in order to remove imperfections and impurities that remain about the surface.

The Board of General Appraisers decided, and the court below affirmed that decision, that the importations should have been classified for duty under paragraph 699, free list of the present tariff act, which reads as follows:

"699. Wood: Logs and round unmanufactured timber, including pulp-woods, firewood, handle bolts, shingle-bolts, gun-blocks for gun-stocks rough-hewn or sawed or planed on one side, hop-poles, ship-timber and ship-planking; all the foregoing not specially provided for in this act."

It is contended for the appellant that they should have been classified under paragraph 200, which reads as follows:

"200. Hubs for wheels, posts, heading bolts, stave bolts, last-blocks, wagon-blocks, oar-blocks, heading-blocks, and all like blocks or sticks, rough-hewn, sawed or bored, 20 per cent ad valorem; fence posts, 10 per cent ad valorem."

There was at the date of the present tariff act no commercial significance of the term "logs," "round unmanufactured timber," or "pulp woods" differing from the ordinary meaning of these terms.

It is conceded by the appellant that, if the importations answer the description in paragraph 699, the decisions below were correct; but appellant insists (1) that they are not "logs" because that term includes only logs in their natural state, or hewn only; (2) that they are not "round unmanufactured timber" because they have been advanced from that category by the process of rossing, and (3) that it is not enough that they may be pulp woods, as only such pulp woods are included as are also round unmanufactured timber.

For many years pulp woods have been exempt from duty. Going back only to the tariff act of 1883, they were enumerated in the free list as "woods, poplar or other woods for the manufacture of paper." In the tariff act of 1890 they were transferred to a general provision exempting "paper stock, crude, of every description, including * * * poplar and other woods fit only to be converted into paper." In the tariff act of 1894, the exemption was made in the same phraseology as in that of 1890. In the present act they were omitted from the general paper-stock provision, and transferred to paragraph 699. During all these years duties were never levied upon pulp woods in any form in which they were imported. It is to be assumed that Congress was aware of the different forms in which they had been usually imported, and it would seem that when for the first time they were enumerated as "pulp woods" in 1897 a short but comprehensive descriptive term was employed which was intended to cover them in all their forms. The evidence shows that while pulp wood has been designated in trade to some extent as rough pulp wood (being wood with the bark on), peeled pulp wood (being wood with the bark peeled by the spudder), and rossed pulp wood (being wood with the bark removed by a barker or rossing machine), all kinds have been equally known as pulp wood and have not been considered as anything else until they are converted in the grinder or the chipper into pulp.

The argument that by the use of the word "including," preceding the words "pulp woods, firewood," etc., in paragraph 699, Congress intended to put only such pulp woods on the free list as should also be round, unmanufactured timber, is not persuasive. We think the word "including" was used as the equivalent of "also," a sense in which it is frequently employed in tariff acts. It is sufficient to refer to the decision of this court in Hiller v. United States (106 Fed. Rep., 73). But rossed pulp wood is not a manufactured timber in any true sense. It would be absurd to call hand-peeled logs manufactured timber. The only real difference between peeled pulp wood and rossed pulp wood is one of degree; and if the pulp wood from which the bark is removed by a spudder is as thoroughly treated as that from which it is removed by a rosser, the result is practically the same.

We agree generally with the decisions of the Board of General Appraisers and of the circuit court. and do not deem it necessary to add anything further to the opinions of Judge Wheeler and Mr. Appraiser Somerville.

The decision is affirmed.

EXHIBIT 2.—(T. D. 27610—G. A. 6440)—Wood charcoal.

Wood charcoal produced by a burning process by which every characteristic of wood is eliminated is not a manufacture of wood, but a nonenumerated manufactured article, dutiable at 20 per cent ad valorem, under the provisions of section 6, tariff act of 1897.

United States General Appraisers, New York, September 15, 1906.

In the matter of protests 204170, etc., of the Algoma Steel Company against the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Marquette.

Before Board 1 (LUNT, SHARRETTS, and MCCLELLAND, General Appraisers).

MCCLELLAND, General Appraiser: The merchandise which is the subject of these protests is wood charcoal. It was assessed for duty at the rate of 35 per cent ad valorem under the provisions of paragraph 208, act of 1897; and it is claimed that duty should have been assessed at the rate of 20 per cent ad valorem under the provisions of section 6 of said act.

The Board has several times sustained the claim here made by protestants, but counsel for the Government is urgent in the contention that wood charcoal is a manufacture of wood, and, therefore, dutiable as assessed. The case of Schriefer et al. v. Wood (5 Blatch., 215) is cited in support of said contention, but the question there involved was whether bone charcoal was subject to tax as a manufacture of bone under the internal-revenue law then in force. The court held that it was, and, inferentially, from the dictum of the court, it may be assumed that if the question here presented had been before the court it would have been also held that wood charcoal was a manufacture of wood. It is nearly half a century since that case was before the court, and we think the view expressed is not supported by the later decisions. In Meyer v. Arthur (91 U. S. Rep., 570) Mr. Justice Bradley, in speaking for the court, said:

"When we speak of manufactures of wood, of leather, or of iron, we refer to articles that have those substances respectively for their component parts, and not to articles in which they have lost their form entirely, and have become the chemical ingredients of new forms."

Whenever the courts have construed the word "manufacture," they have uniformly defined the result as a product which has been advanced by the process to a new and different state, which, although having a new name, and being adapted to a new use, still retains the characteristics of the material from which it is manufactured. See Erhardt v. Hahn (55 Fed. Rep., 273); Tide Water Oil Company v. United States (171 U. S. Rep., 210); Dudley v. United States (74 Fed. Rep., 548).

Since, by the process to which the wood to produce charcoal is submitted every characteristic of the wood is eliminated, we are decidedly of the opinion that charcoal is not within the meaning of the existing tariff law, or within the more recent rulings of the United States courts, a manufacture of wood. See G. A. 6076 (T. D. 26508); Abstract 1269 (T. D. 25273); Abstract 11237 (T. D. 28348); Abstract 12683 (T. D. 27591); also unpublished decision, September 18, 1903 (protest 77787*f*).

The protests are sustained and the decision of the collector in each case is reversed.

EXHIBIT 3—(T. D. 27513)—Peel in brine.

CAUSSE MANUFACTURING COMPANY v. UNITED STATES.

U. S. Circuit Court, Southern District of New York. July 18, 1906. Suit 4027.

ORANGE AND LEMON PEEL IN BRINE.—In construing paragraphs 267 and 627, tariff act of 1897, re pectively providing for orange or lemon peel "preserved" and for the same material "not preserved," Held that peel in brine, the brine protecting it from decay but not affecting its properties or quality is not "preserved" and is therefore free of duty under the latter provision as "not preserved."

ON application for review of a decision of the Board of United States General Appraisers.

For decision below see G. A. 6039 (T. D. 26368), affirming the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of New York on importations by A. L. Causse Manufacturing Company.

Comstock & Washburn (Albert H. Washburn of counsel), for the importers.

D. Frank Lloyd, assistant United States attorney, for the United States.

WHEELER, District Judge: This is orange and lemon peel in brine, classified as preserved under paragraph 267, which lays a duty of 2 cents per pound on "orange peel or lemon peel preserved, candied, or dried," against a protest that it comes under paragraph 627, which makes free "orange and lemon peel not preserved, candied, or dried."

The brine protects the peel from decay and does not affect its properties or quality. The Board divided in opinion, setting forth the different views fully, to which but little can be added. It rather seems, however, that the brine is a mere covering or packing for protection in transportation as from cold or heat, and which when separated from the peel leaves that in its natural state, as the taking off of any covering would; and that by this protection the peel is not preserved as such fruits or fruit products are within the meaning of the tariff law.

Decision reversed.

EXHIBIT 4 —(T. D. 28106)—Polished steel.

UNITED STATES v. CRUCIBLE STEEL COMPANY.

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Second Circuit. April 12, 1907. No. 184 (suit 4150).

POLISHED STEEL—STEEL, COLD-ROLLED, SMOOTHED ONLY.—Cold-rolled steel strips, the only polish or brightening on the surface of which is that incidentally acquired in the process of cold rolling are not subject to the additional duty provided in paragraph 141, tariff act of 1897, on such strips when "cold rolled, * * * brightened, * * * or polished by any process to such perfected surface finish or polish better than the grade of cold rolled, smoothed only."

APPEAL from the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York.

[Decision adverse to the Government.]

For decision below see 147 Federal Reporter, 537 (T. D. 27446), affirming a decision of the Board of United States General Appraisers, G. A. 6213 (T. D. 26870), which had reversed the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of New York.

The material in controversy consisted of cold-rolled steel strips, the only polish or brightening on the surface of which was that incidentally acquired in the process of cold rolling. The Board and the court below denied the Government's contention that such steel was subject to the additional duty provided in paragraph 141, tariff act of 1897, on—

All strips * * * of iron or steel, * * * which are cold rolled, * * * brightened, * * * or polished by any process to such perfected surface finish or polish better than the grade of cold rolled, smoothed only.

These decisions were made on the authority of the ruling of the circuit court of appeals, second circuit, in United States v. Crucible Steel Company (137 Fed. Rep., 384; T. D. 26157), and held that the new evidence introduced by the Government failed to differentiate this case from that which was before the circuit court of appeals in said former case.

J. Osgood Nichols, assistant United States attorney, for the United States.
William J. Gibson, for the importers.

Before WALLACE and COXE, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM: Judgment affirmed.

EXHIBIT 5.—(T. D. 26387—G. A. 6052)—Ground clams in tins—Shell fish.

So-called condensed clams, which consist of fresh clams removed from the shell, ground into fine particles, and then sealed in tin cans after a partial evaporation of the moisture, and which are used as a substitute for fresh clams in making broth, chowder, and other culinary articles, are free as "shell fish," under paragraph 659, tariff act of 1897, and are not dutiable by similitude at the same rate as "fish paste or sauce," under paragraph 241.

United States General Appraisers, New York, May 22, 1905.

In the matter of protest 112112 of J. E. Doyen against the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Port Townsend.

Before Board 3 (WAITE, SOMERVILLE, and HAY, General Appraisers; HAY, G. A., absent).

WAITE, General Appraiser: The goods in controversy are so-called condensed clams, which are made by removing the clams from the shell, grinding them into fine particles, partially evaporating the moisture, and then sealing the product in tin cans. They appear to be used as a substitute for fresh clams in making broth, chowder, and other culinary articles.

The collector assessed the merchandise at 40 per cent ad valorem by similitude to "fish paste or sauce," which is provided for in paragraph 241. It is claimed to be free under paragraph 659, exempting "shrimps and other shell fish," or dutiable at 10 or 20 per cent as an unenumerated article under section 6.

Shell fish have long been on the free list, and the provision has been always construed by the Board, the Department, and the Attorney-General to cover prepared or preserved shell fish. Some of the things which have been classified as shell fish are dried oysters and abelones, dried or smoked oysters in oil, canned lobsters, canned clams, and shelled lobsters preserved in vinegar. In re Mendelson, G. A. 146 (T. D. 10496); In re Tung Foo & Co., G. A. 1072 (T. D. 12258); T. D. 6548; T. D. 6826; T. D. 7080; T. D. 9645; 19 Opinions Attorney-General (401).

We are of opinion that the reducing of the clams to small particles, which seems to be practically the only preparation in this case, has not removed them from the class of "shell fish" in the tariff sense. Analogous cases have arisen in the construction of the fish schedule, under which so-called cream of codfish, consisting of codfish skinned and boned, which had been subjected to the further processes of cutting or shredding, was held to be dutiable as "fish, skinned or boned" (Teed & Co. v. United States, 126 Fed. Rep., 447; T. D. 25137), and fishballs in tins were held to be dutiable under a provision for fish in tin packages, In re Haaken, G. A. 4598 (T. D. 21758). Note also Bogle v. Magone (152 U. S., 623).

The claim for free entry under said paragraph 659 is accordingly sustained and the collector's decision reversed.

EXHIBIT 6.—(T. D. 27444—G. A. 6389)—Sawed lumber—"Board measure."

The standard unit for the measurement of lumber is 1 foot board measure; the dimension thereof is 12 by 12 inches surface measurement and 1 inch in thickness. In ascertaining the quantity of lumber this unit is to be applied, addition or substraction being made proportionately as the lumber is over or under 1 inch in thickness, the results of such application illustrated as follows: A piece of board 100 feet long, 12 inches in width, 1 inch in thickness, contains 100 feet of lumber. A piece of board 100 feet long, 12 inches in width, 1½ inches in thickness, contains 150 feet of lumber. A piece of board 100 feet long, 12 inches in width, one-half of an inch in thickness, contains 50 feet of lumber.—G. A. 6243 (T. D. 26937) overruled.

United States General Appraisers, New York, June 25, 1906.

In the matter of protests 185599, etc., of F. W. Myers & Co. against the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Burlington.

Before Board 1 (LUNT, SHARRETTS, and MCCLELLAND, General Appraisers; SHARRETTS, G. A., absent).

MCCLELLAND, General Appraiser: These protests are against the assessment of duty on sawed lumber at the rate of $2 per 1,000 feet, board measure, under the provisions of paragraph 195, tariff act of 1897. Such lumber in the condition imported was less than 1 inch in thickness, but duty was assessed thereon as though it were 1 inch in thickness, and protestants claim that in estimating the quantity for board measure allowance should have been made proportionately, as such lumber was less than 1 inch in thickness.

The exact question here involved was considered and determined adversely to the protestants in the Erichs case, G. A. 6243 (T. D. 26937), and we are now asked to make a contrary determination.

It is the practice, unless where it becomes manifest that error has been made, to follow a prior decision of the Board until it is reversed by the courts. There would be no justification, however, for continuing to follow a decision which a new record showed to be manifestly wrong in principle. Such action would be doing injustice to importers, in that their rights would be denied them, or at least they would be put to the trouble and expense of taking up for review the action of the Board by the courts.

We have compared the record made in these cases with the record in G. A. 6243 (supra), and such comparison leads us to the conclusion that to continue in effect the decision therein reached would be inexcusable. In the Erichs case no witnesses were produced on behalf of protestant, but four were called by the Government, each of whom testified that the commercial understanding of the term "board measure" was as defined in the Grammar School Arithmetic prepared by David Eugene Smith, Ph. D., and the Werner Arithmetic, prepared by Frank M. Hall. On such a record no other conclusion than that reached would have been justified; but in the cases now before us eighteen witnesses were called and testified, nine on behalf of the protestants and nine on behalf of the Government, and, strange as it may seem, their respective views as to the commercial understanding of the term "board measure" differed according to the understanding of the contending parties by whom they were called to testify; that is to say, while all of the witnesses agreed that 1 foot, board measure, as universally understood in the lumber trade, is 12 by 12 inches, surface measurement, and 1 inch in thickness, and that in measuring to ascertain the quantity of lumber of greater thickness than 1 inch the quantity of board measure is ascertained by taking the superficial measurement and adding proportionately as the thickness exceeds 1 inch. They differed, as we have indicated, as to the method of ascertaining quantity, board measure, of lumber less than 1 inch thick. Each of the witnesses called on behalf of the protestants stated it as his understanding of the lumber-trade usage that, in ascertaining the quantity of lumber less than 1 inch in thickness, the foot board measure is the unit of measurement, as in the case of lumber more than 1 inch in thickness, due allowance being made in proportion as the lumber is less than 1 inch in thickness, which may be illustrated as follows: A piece of board 100 feet long, 12 inches wide, one-half inch in thickness, would contain 50 feet of lumber, board measure. Each of the witnesses called on behalf of the Government expressed it as his understanding that no allowance in ascertaining the quantity of lumber, board measure, is made on account of such lumber being less than 1 inch in thickness. In other words, lumber which is one-fourth of an inch in thickness contains as many feet, board measure, in a given quantity of superficial measurement as though it were 1 inch in thickness.

It is but fair to say without intended reflection upon any of the witnesses that those who were called on behalf of the protestants were shown to be of much greater experience and engaged in much more extensive operations in the lumber trade than those who were called upon to testify on behalf of the Government, and it may therefore be said that protestants have overcome the presumption which exists in favor of the collector's action by a fair preponderance of competent testimony. It seems, however, inconceivable that men who have been engaged in buying and selling lumber extensively for many years could so differ in their understanding of the application of so well known a commercial term.

One fact is demonstrated beyond doubt, namely, that the term "board measure" has a well-defined, uniform, and general meaning in the lumber trade of this country in so far as its dimensions are concerned and as the standard unit of measurement—that is to say, it is definitely, uniformly, and generally understood to be 12 by 12, surface measure, and 1 inch in thickness, and the record just as clearly demonstrates that in ascertaining the quantity board measure of lumber more than 1 inch in thickness addition must be made in proportion as the lumber exceeds 1 inch in thickness—as, for instance, a piece of board 100 feet long, 12 inches wide, 1¼ inches in thickness would be commonly understood to contain 150 feet of lumber, board measure. But it is made equally clear that there is no common understanding in the trade of how the term "board measure" shall be applied in ascertaining the quantity where the lumber is less than 1 inch in thickness, and therefore, there being no commercial understanding of the term as applied to such lumber which differs from the common understanding in determining the question involved, the words of the term "board measure" must be construed according to the common understanding in the light of the accepted meaning of that term as a unit of measurement. United States v. Nordlinger (121 Fed. Rep., 690); Milne v. United States (115 Fed. Rep., 410).

We do not think that in the absence of any trade understanding to the contrary it need be argued that if the unit for the ascertainment of quantity of lumber is "board measure" as thus defined, necessarily where lumber is over or under 1 inch in thickness addition or subtraction must be made as the lumber exceeds or is under 1 inch in thickness. This may at least be said to be the common-sense view, and it would seem as though none other could be justified in the absence of a technical trade understanding to the contrary. Enough has been said as to the differences of trade understanding of the application of the term "board measure" to show that the Board was not at all cognizant thereof at the time that the decision was written in the Erichs case, and the conclusion therein reached, while in accordance with the record evidence upon which it was based, was unquestionably error and should be reversed.

Counsel for protestants has made strong argument in his brief in favor of a reversal of G. A. 6243 (supra) upon the ground that the conclusion therein reached disturbs a practice which had been long continued by appraising officers and collectors, and acquiesced in by the Treasury Department through several administrations, and many authorities are cited against the policy of disturbing a practice so long established and so uniformly acquiesced in.

It is more than probable that if these cases had been brought to the attention of the Board before said G. A. 6243 was promulgated, the conclusion therein reached might have been different, but we think it more important to decide the question here involved upon its merits than to sustain the protests merely on the ground that the classifying officers had departed from a long-established usage. We therefore sustain the protests squarely upon the ground that duty was wrongfully assessed and that the claims of protestants are well founded. The decision of the Board as expressed in G. A. 6243 (T. D. 26937) is overruled. Reliquidations will follow accordingly.

EXHIBIT 7.

No. 14017.—NICKEL BARS.—Protests 206095, etc., of Driver-Harris Wire Company against the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Newark. Before Board 2 (Fischer, Howell, and De Vries, General Appraisers; De Vries, G. A., absent), December 31, 1906.

Importers contended that the merchandise was improperly classified as metal articles under paragraph 193, tariff act of 1897, and should have been classified under paragraph 185 as nickel in bars. Protests sustained.

FISCHER, General Appraiser: The merchandise in question consists of certain so-called hot-rolled wire rods or bars, composed of an alloy of nickel and copper. * * * It is not disputed that nickel is the component of chief value. The only question here is whether the imported article is in the form of bars. The testimony is somewhat conflicting on this point, but we are inclined to hold that the contention of the importers is well founded. The imported article is produced by hot rolling and is used solely as raw material for making wire by drawing through dies. Dealers in this particular class of merchandise designate it as wire rods or bars, and we are of opinion that it is one of the forms of nickel alloy provided for in paragraph 185.

EXHIBIT 8—(T. D. 27068)—Repairs on vessels.

UNITED STATES v. GEORGE HALL COAL COMPANY.

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Second Circuit. January 26, 1906. No. 97 (suit 1580).

JURISDICTION OF BOARD OF GENERAL APPRAISERS—REPAIRS ON VESSELS.

Under section 14, customs administrative act of 1890, giving the Board of General Appraisers authority to review decisions of collectors of customs "as to the rate and amount of duties chargeable upon imported merchandise, including all dutiable costs and charges, and as to all fees and exactions of whatever character (except duties on tonnage)," the Board has jurisdiction to review the action of a collector in assessing duties on the cost of repairs of vessels under section 3114, Revised Statutes.

APPEAL from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District of New York.

In the decision below (134 Fed. Rep., 1003; T. D. 26038), the circuit court affirmed an unpublished decision of the Board of General Appraisers, rendered December 31, 1903, which had reversed the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Rochester. The collector, in imposing duty for the expense of repairs given an American vessel in a foreign port, as provided in section 3114, Revised Statutes, had included in the dutiable amount the expense of docking the vessels. The Board sustained the importer's contention that docking is not one of the expenses contemplated by said section.

The Government's contention (T. D. 24932) was that the Board had no jurisdiction to determine this question, because it did not come within section 14, customs administrative act of 1890, which gives the Board power to review the decisions of collectors of customs—

As to the rate and amount of duties chargeable upon imported merchandise, including all dutiable costs and charges, and as to all fees and exactions of whatever character (except duties on tonnage).

Before LACOMBE, TOWNSEND, and COXE, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM: Decision affirmed.

EXHIBIT 9—(T. D. 27002)—Paraldehyde.

MERCK v. UNITED STATES.

U. S. Circuit Court, Southern District of New York. December 19, 1905. Suit 3519.

PARALDEHYDE—MEDICINAL PREPARATION.—Paraldehyde is produced from aldehyde, and aldehyde is a by-product resulting from the distillation of alcohol, being produced by the same process, but contains no alcohol and is not derived from alcohol. Held that paraldehyde is not a medicinal preparation in the preparation of which alcohol is used within the meaning of paragraph 67, tariff act of 1897 but is dutiable under paragraph 68 as a medicinal preparation in the preparation of which alcohol is not used.

ON application for review of a decision of the Board of United States General Appraisers.

In the decision under review the Board affirmed the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of New York on importations by Merck & Co. The article passed on consisted of paraldehyde. It was classified under paragraph 67, tariff act of 1897, as a medicinal preparation in the preparation of which alcohol was used, and was claimed by the importers to be dutiable either under paragraph 3 as a chemical compound or under paragraph 68 as a medicinal preparation in the preparation of which alcohol was not used. The findings and conclusions of the Board are stated as follows in its opinion, Abstract 612 (T. D. 25089):

"LUNT, General Appraiser: We find that the paraldehyde covered by these protests is a medicinal preparation in the preparation of which alcohol was used. It appears from the evidence that paraldehyde is immediately produced from aldehyde by the action of a mineral acid thereon; that aldehyde is obtained as a by-product in the manufacture of spirits, where it comes over with the first runnings, a portion of the alcohol being oxidized in the process of distillation, and is also cheaply obtained by the action of ozonized air upon alcohol. In these cases the collector decided that alcohol was used in the preparation of the paraldehyde, and specifically no evidence has been given to the contrary.

"* * * The Board, in G. A. 4911 (T. D. 22983), held that paraldehyde was dutiable at the rate assessed in these cases; and upon this further investigation we do not find any reason to hold to the contrary."

Further evidence admitted in the circuit court showed that aldehyde, from which paraldehyde is manufactured, is scientifically a distinct article from paraldehyde and is dealt in as a separate commercial commodity, and that it contains no alcohol; also, that as commercially produced it is not derived from alcohol, but is one of several by-products in the process of distilling alcohol, all of which (aldehyde, fusel oil, etc.), including the alcohol, are produced together at the same time and by the same process, the aldehyde being the first to come over, because its boiling point is lower than that of alcohol and the other distillates. It was further shown that paraldehyde is a medicinal preparation.

Comstock & Washburn (Albert H. Washburn of counsel), for the importers.

Charles Duane Baker, assistant United States attorney, for the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ORDER.

PLATT, District Judge: The above cause coming on for hearing and determination before this court, * * * it is ordered, adjudged, and decreed that there was error in the proceedings before the Board of General Appraisers, and that their decision herein be, and the same is hereby, reversed; and it is further ordered, adjudged, and decreed that the merchandise which is the subject of this proceeding is properly dutiable at the rate of 25 per cent ad valorem under paragraph 68 of the tariff act of July 24, 1897.

EXHIBIT 10.—(T. D. 27569—G. A. 6423)—Fireproofed lumber not a manufacture of wood.

Sawed lumber chemically treated and thereby rendered practically fireproof, used as a substitute for incombustible materials, but which retains the characteristics of ordinary sawed lumber. Held not a manufacture of wood, but dutiable as sawed lumber at $2 per thousand feet, board measure, under paragraph 195, tariff act of 1897.—G. A. 5827 (T. D. 25715) affirmed by circuit court of appeals (T. D. 27385); United States v. Dudley (174 U. S. 670) cited.

United States General Appraisers, New York, August 18, 1906.

In the matter of protests 139380, etc., of F. W. Myers & Co. against the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Plattsburg.

Before Board 1 (LUNT, SHARRETTS, and MCCLELLAND, General Appraisers; LUNT, G. A., absent).

MCCLELLAND, General Appraiser: These protests cover importations of sawed lumber, consisting of brown ash, red oak, white box pine, etc., which has been treated by a process of chemicalization for the purpose of making it fireproof. Duty was assessed thereon at the rate of 35 per cent ad valorem under the provisions of paragraph 208, tariff act of 1897, and protestants claim that the same is dutiable at the rate of $2 per thousand feet, board measure, as provided for in paragraph 195 of said act.

These protests raise a similar question to that which was decided by the Board in G. A. 5827 (T. D. 25715), wherein it was held that the fireproofing process to which the merchandise had been subjected did not constitute a manufacture of wood, but was still sawed lumber, and dutiable as such at the rate of $2 per thousand feet, board measure, as claimed in these protests.

An appeal was taken by the Government from G. A. 5827 (supra) to the United States circuit court, northern district of New York (suit 1670), which was decided adversely to the contention of the importers (139 Fed. Rep., 344; T. D. 26517), the court holding that said lumber, on account of the treatment chemically, had been changed in name and to an extent in use. The decision of the circuit court was appealed, however, to the United States circuit court of appeals, second circuit, and the ruling of the lower court was reversed, sustaining the conclusion of the Board (T. D. 27385).

Following the decision of the circuit court of appeals, these protests are sustained and the action of the collector is reversed in each case.

EXHIBIT 11.—(T. D. 27306—G. A. 6350)—Vetch seed.

1. "GRASS SEEDS."—The term "grass seeds" in paragraph 656, tariff act of 1897, is not used in its scientific botanical sense and restricted to plants of the order graminæ, or true grasses, but includes other herbage which serves for pasture or forage of cattle and which has come to be popularly or commercially known as grass.

2. SAME—VETCH SEED.—The seed of the vetch, one of the so-called "artificial grasses," which is a leguminous plant used extensively for pasture and forage purposes and classed with grasses and forage plants by the seed trade, is free of duty as "grass seed," under said paragraph 656, and is not dutiable as a seed not specially provided for under paragraph 254.

United States General Appraisers, New York, April 23, 1906.

In the matter of protest 177363 of N. L. Willett Drug Company against the assessment of duty by the collector of customs at the port of Savannah.

Before Board 3 (WAITE, SOMERVILLE, and HAY, General Appraisers)

WAITE, General Appraiser: The commodity subject of this protest is two varieties of vetch seed—vicia villosa, otherwise known as the sand or winter vetch, and vicia sativa, or common vetch. These were classified as seeds not specially provided for, under paragraph 254 of the tariff act of 1897, and assessed with duty at 30 per cent ad valorem. They are claimed to be free under paragraph 656 of the act, which exempts, among other things, "all flower and grass seeds" not specially provided for.

The single question to be determined is whether the seed of the vetch is grass seed within the meaning of paragraph 656. It is well understood that the botanical order graminex, which comprises the true grasses, would not include this plant. It embraces such plants as timothy, red top, Johnson grass, corn, oats, barley, sugar cane, bamboo, etc., from which it will plainly appear that what are sometimes termed "artificial grasses," such as clover, alfalfa, sainfoin, spurry, and vetches, are not within the botanical classification of grasses. We think, however, that the law was framed with a view of placing on the free list such plants as are popularly known and commercially treated as grasses rather than those which are scientifically so known. It is very evident, as will hereafter appear, that the Board has not been bound by the scientific botanical classification. The popular definition of the word "grass" would include such plants as vetches. The following is taken from the Standard Dictionary:

"Grass.—In common usage, the green plants on which cattle and other beasts feed; any herbage that serves for pasture. This sense includes what are sometimes called the artificial grasses, food-plants for horses and cattle which are not real grasses, as clover in the United States and sainfoin in Europe, as well as some other plants, principally of the legume or bean family."

It would appear from the evidence in this case, and we think it is not disputed, that the vetch is a leguminous plant, allied to the clover and alfalfa, and of the same family as the pea and bean. The vetch is used for pasture and forage and for making hay. These, we think, are its only uses, and are quite extensive in Georgia and some of the other southern States, and also in the northwestern part of the United States. It is especially adapted for growth upon lean or barren and light soils, and, like the clover, has the power of collecting nitrogen from the air and supplying it to the soil, thus strengthening the soil and making it more productive for all kinds of crops. The seed of this plant is not raised for commercial purposes in the United States. The evidence shows that many of the large dealers include vetch under the head of grasses in their catalogues, and of those dealers who do not so classify them nearly all place them in the same classification with forage and pasture plants.

That the Board has not so construed the provisions for grass seed in the tariff acts as to restrict them to seeds of plants botanically known as grasses is clear from its decisions. Thus sainfoin, which is in no way related to the true grasses, was held to be a grass in Board decision In re Dingelstedt, G. A. 2566 (T. D. 14937). Spurry, which is a pink and not related to the true grasses, was held to be grass in the case of Henry Nungesser, G. A. 2597 (T. D. 15020). Clover, which, like the vetch, is a legume, was held to be grass in G. A. 2442 (T. D. 14729); also an appeal by Henry Nungesser. None of these plants are botanically grass, but being well-known forage plants, popularly and commercially classed as grasses, their seeds were very properly held to be grass seeds by the Board. For the same reason we think that vetch seed should be classified as grass seed within the meaning of the statute.

We are not unmindful that the Board has hitherto denied free entry to vetch seed, holding it to be dutiable as a seed not specially provided for under said paragraph 254 (In re Nungesser, G. A. 4602 –T. D. 21762), but we are satisfied that that finding was based upon a record which was neither full nor correct, and while it warranted the finding at that time and upon that record we think it should be overruled.

That the term "grass seeds" is used in paragraph 656 in its popular or commercial sense rather than in its scientific sense may be said to be settled by the decision of the circuit court of appeals in Nordlinger v. United States (127 Fed. Rep., 683; T. D. 24976), where canary seed, which is botanically a grass seed, but not so known either popularly or commercially, was held not to be grass seed within the meaning of said provision.

We find that vetch seed is grass seed, as the term is used in paragraph 656, and sustain the protest, reversing the collector's decision.

REPORT OF AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS, 1907.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF WAR,

TRANSMITTING

REPORT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS FOR THE YEAR 1907.

JANUARY 6, 1908.—Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs and ordered to be printed.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, January 3, 1908.

SIR: Pursuant to the provisions of an act of Congress approved January 5, 1905, entitled "An act to incorporate the American National Red Cross," and providing that a report of its proceedings shall be duly received and audited by the War Department, I have the honor to transmit herewith copy of the report of the proceedings of the American National Red Cross for the year 1907, and to state that the receipts and expenditures as shown therein have been audited and found correct.

Very respectfully,

WM. H. TAFT,
Secretary of War.

THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS, 1907.

THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS,
Washington, D. C., January 1, 1908.

SIR: Pursuant to the provisions of an act of Congress approved January 5, 1905, entitled "An act to incorporate the American National Red Cross," I have the honor to submit the following report of the proceedings of the American National Red Cross for the year 1907. Embodied in this report are the annual report of the chairman of the central committee, read before the incorporators and delegates at the annual meeting of the corporation December 3, and the report of the treasurer for the fiscal year ended November 30, 1907.

Respectfully, CHAS. L. MAGEE,
Secretary.

The SECRETARY OF WAR.

REPORT OF THE CHAIRMAN OF THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS.

The past year has been an uneventful one in the history of the American National Red Cross. Our country has been at peace with all the world, and there have been no civil disturbances calling into activity the armed forces of the National or State governments, either at home or in our insular possessions. There have been no shocks of arms and no wounded to care for.

Neither have there occurred any great catastrophes within our limits such as in the past have destroyed many human beings and caused the injury or impoverishment of the inhabitants. Therefore no appeals have been made to the charitable and philanthropic for money or material contributions in aid of any of our own people.

Unfortunately some other portions of the earth have been sorely afflicted.

In January an earthquake, followed by a devastating fire, destroyed a very large part of the city of Kingston, Jamaica. As in San Francisco, the fire destroyed almost all that the earthquake had spared throughout all the best business portion of this flourishing city.

The Red Cross bulletin for April of this year contains a statement respecting the action taken by the executive committee in this emergency, together with copies of correspondence wherein appears an expression of grateful acknowledgment by the colonial governor for the supplies given by the Red Cross.

In 1906 a flood of great violence in the Yangtse River in China destroyed crops and made planting impracticable throughout a densely populated area in the lower valley of that river, which contained a population variously estimated at ten to fifteen million souls.

The bulletins for July and October contain information respecting the action taken by the Red Cross in alleviating the distress caused by this inundation in China. In the next bulletin to appear will be found a reprint of a letter recently received from the chairman of the North Kiangsu relief committee. The total contributions of money for this special relief amounted, on November 30, to $331,034.28.

A recent drought and crop failure in southeastern Russia resulted in very great destitution, a famine in fact, throughout a vast area along the Volga, the Don, and their tributaries. The April bulletin contains a statement of action taken to the 18th of March. Since that date something more than $6,000 has been received through our branch societies. The aggregate of remittances to date to the Russian by the American Red Cross is $9,000.

The October bulletin contains a somewhat extensive statement respecting the condition of the relief work in San Francisco. It is now understood that all relief operations in San Francisco will be closed on July 1, 1908.

The following figures, derived in part from the audit of the relief and Red Cross funds and the reports of the Red Cross agent in San Francisco, who is also vice-president of the San Francisco relief corporation, show the very large proportions of the relief work and give some indication of the magnitude of the operations that have been carried on.

The funds available for further San Francisco relief on November 30 appeared to be—

Red Cross funds in Treasury	$498,879.23
Funds and bills receivable of San Francisco relief corporation (estimated)	347,688.49
Total	846,567.72

The last amount is subject to change by increment from certain interest and other collections, and by deduction should the collection of subscriptions still unpaid fall below the expectation.

The arrangement for closing the relief work recognizes a probable future expenditure for specified relief proper of $750,000, and a fund is also set aside for contingencies.

The executive committee held six meetings during the past year.

At the meeting on January 7, 1907, the resignation of Hon. James C. McReynolds as a member of the central committee, tendered to the President of the United States December 31, 1906, was read, and his resignation as counselor of the Red Cross was accepted. To fill the vacancy in the central committee caused by the resignation of Mr. McReynolds, the President appointed as representative of the Department of Justice on this committee Hon. Alford W. Cooley. Mr. Cooley was then elected a member of the executive committee and counselor of the society.

The resignation of Hon. Charles Hallam Keep as treasurer of the American National Red Cross was accepted, and to fill the vacancy until a treasurer might be elected the assistant treasurer, M. H. H. Flather, was elected acting treasurer. Papers referred to the executive committee by the Michigan branch of the Red Cross, relative to the violation of the act of Congress respecting the use of the insignia of the society by the so-called Red Cross dentists of Detroit, were considered by the committee, and the secretary was directed to authorize the Michigan branch to bring suit against the offending parties. The chairman of the central committee contemplating an absence from Washington for several weeks, Gen. Robert M. O'Reilly was elected temporary chairman.

At the meeting on May 17, 1907, Hon. Beekman Winthrop was elected treasurer of the American National Red Cross. On account of the contemplated absence from the city for some weeks of four members of the executive committee, thus making it impossible for a quorum to be present at any meeting until their return, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That Gen. George W. Davis, chairman of the central committee, be appointed a committee of one, with full power to act on behalf of the executive committee in regard to the situation in San Francisco and the disposition of the funds for the relief of San Francisco, until further action by the committee.

At the meeting held October 18, 1907, the chairman made a statement respecting the result of his visit to San Francisco and the remittances made under the authority conferred upon him. At this meeting the committee passed a resolution recognizing the Needlework Guild of America as an affiliated body. The question of raising an endowment was also discussed.

At the meeting on October 31, 1907, the chairman submitted to the committee a draft of a resolution outlining a plan for further remittances to the San Francisco relief and Red Cross funds corporation. This resolution was adopted as the committee's action upon plans and estimates received from above corporation for bringing to a conclusion relief measures in San Francisco.

At the meeting on November 27, 1907, the committee considered certain drafted resolutions relative to the finances of the society, which resolutions were formally approved by the executive committee for reference to the central committee for action by that body.

THIRD ANNUAL MEETING.

In compliance with the requirements of the charter, the third annual meeting of the American National Red Cross was held in Washington, December 3, 1907.

The meeting was attended by twelve members of the board of incorporators and delegates from the following State branches: California, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, and West Virginia. Reports were also read from the branches in Indian Territory, Kansas, Michigan, Texas, and Porto Rico. Besides the incorporators and delegates, there were present many of the officers and other representatives of the national organization and of the various branches. Addresses were delivered by the Hon. Elihu Root, Secretary of State; Hon. William Cary Sanger, of New York; Mr. Ernest P. Bicknell, of Chicago; Maj. Charles Lynch, General Staff, U. S. Army; Surg. W. C. Braisted, Assistant Surgeon-General, U. S. Navy, and Mr. Charles W. Hurd, of New York.

The national officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Hon. William H. Taft; treasurer, Hon. Beekman Winthrop; counselor, Hon. Alford W. Cooley; secretary, Charles L. Magee.

The President of the United States reappointed as members of the central committee the following: Maj. Gen. George W. Davis, U. S. Army, retired, chairman; Hon. Robert Bacon, representative of the State Department; Hon. Beekman Winthrop, representative of the Treasury Department; Brig. Gen. Robert M. O'Reilly, U. S. Army, representative of the War Department; Medical Director John C. Wise, U. S. Navy, representative of the Navy Department; Hon. Alford W. Cooley, representative of the Department of Justice.

To fill two vacancies in the central committee among those elected by the incorporators caused by expiration of the terms of Judge W. W. Morrow and Hon. James R. Garfield, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, LL. D., of the University of California, and Hon. James R. Garfield were elected.

To fill two vacancies in the central committee among those elected by delegates of State branches caused by the expiration of the terms of Gen. Charles Bird and Hon. William Cary Sanger, these members were reelected.

Mrs. Marshall Field, of Chicago, was elected a member of the board of incorporators to fill an existing vacancy.

Respectfully submitted.

CHAS. L. MAGEE,
Secretary.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE TREASURER OF THE AMERICAN NATIONAL RED CROSS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED NOVEMBER 30, 1907.

EXPLANATORY NOTE.—Formerly the funds of the society comprised but two divisions, viz, the endowment fund and the emergency fund. Under the system of accounting effected by the resolution of the central committee of December 3, 1907, the funds are divided into four separate accounts, viz, the endowment fund, the emergency fund—special, the emergency fund—general, and the administrative fund.

It will be seen by the statement published in the January bulletin of last year, under the title general emergency fund, that the balance in treasury of this fund on November 30, 1906, was $2,381,334.46, and that this was composed of the following special balances:

San Francisco relief	$2,374,654.48
Japanese relief	383.73
General fund	6,296.25
	2,381,334.46
The balance of the general fund	6,296.25
Is made up of—
Proceeds from sale of real estate	5,075.00
(This is equally divided and assigned by the executive committee to the emergency fund—general and the administrative fund.)
The remainder of this balance, derived from other sources, is	1,221.25
The new accounts are therefore opened with the following balances:
San Francisco relief	2,374,654.48
Japanese relief	383.73
Emergency fund—general ($5,075÷2)	2,537.50
Administrative fund ($5,075÷2+$1,221.25)	3,758.75
Total	2,381,334.46

EMERGENCY FUND.

This fund is divided into three subheadings, as follows: Administrative fund, emergency fund—general, and emergency fund—special, referred to in this general statement as Exhibits I, II, and III, respectively.

O

60TH CONGRESS, 1st Session. } HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. { DOCUMENT No. 437.

OFFICERS DELINQUENT IN THEIR ACCOUNTS, 1907.

LETTER

FROM

THE ACTING SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

TRANSMITTING

A STATEMENT OF OFFICERS DELINQUENT IN RENDERING THEIR ACCOUNTS.

JANUARY 6, 1908.—Referred to the Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department and ordered to be printed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, January 4, 1908.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith, in accordance with law, statements from the accounting officers of this Department showing what officers of the Government are delinquent in rendering their accounts during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, or in the payment of balances found due from them from the last preceding fiscal year.

Respectfully,

J. B. REYNOLDS,
Acting Secretary.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, December 20, 1907.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a report relating to delinquencies and undeposited balances for the fiscal year 1907 (29 Stat. L., p. 179, sec. 4).

There were 119 delinquencies in the rendition of accounts: Customs, 50; internal revenue, 47; miscellaneous, 22.

The delinquencies for the preceding fiscal year aggregated 179.

Respectfully,

W. E. ANDREWS, Auditor.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF AUDITOR FOR THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, D. C., December 20, 1907.

SIR: In compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the act of May 28, 1896 (29 Stat. L., p. 179), I hereby submit the following report of the Auditor for the Treasury Department concerning delinquencies in the rendition and transmission of accounts and also concerning balances found due upon final settlements for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907.

Delinquencies are waived by the President or the Secretary of the Treasury under the provisions of section 12, act of July 31, 1894 (28 Stat. L., p. 209), as amended by section 4 of the legislative act approved March 2, 1895 (28 Stat. L., p. 807).

Waivers made by the Secretary usually show delinquencies in forwarding accounts to the proper officers at Washington, and those made by the President indicate delinquencies on the part of the administrative officers. (Sec. 12, act of July 31, 1894, 28 Stat. L., p. 209.)

Waivers marked (*) show delinquencies on the part of the administrative officers and are made by the Secretary for the President under section 4 of the legislative act of March 2, 1895 (28 Stat. L., p. 807).

As the causes of delinquencies are not explained to this office they can not be stated in this report.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

In the case of each of the above-named officers, who were delinquent in rendering and sending in their accounts, manifest physical difficulty was shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Treasury, and thereupon the delinquency was waived.

The Department of Justice was delinquent in transmitting to this office the account of George F. White, United States marshal, southern district of Georgia, for the second quarter, but it was shown to the satisfaction of the President to be impossible for that Department to complete the administrative examination and forward the accounts within the time prescribed by the act of July 31, 1894 (28 Stat., 209).

B. H. Colbert, late United States marshal for the southern district of Indian Territory has been found indebted to the United States in the sum of $510.91, and L. J. Bryan, middle district of Alabama, in the sum of $70.65, which sums the said marshals have failed to pay into the Treasury of the United States.

ANNUAL REPORT OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF PANAMA RAILROAD COMPANY, 1907.

PANAMA RAILROAD COMPANY,
New York, November 1, 1907.

To the stockholders of the Panama Railroad Company:

I respectfully submit for your consideration a report of the company's financial condition and operation for the twelve months from July 1, 1906, to June 30, 1907.

I call attention to the accompanying exhibits, showing income and profit and loss account, general balance sheet, and statistical tables which will give you detailed information upon the financial aspects of the company's business.

Capital stock issue (unchanged)	$7,000,000

The outstanding bond issues June 30, 1907, were:

Sinking fund 6 per cent subsidy bonds:
Original issue of (for payment in advance of the annual subsidy of $225,000 to the Republic of Panama)	$3,000,000
Redeemed by annual sinking fund drawings	2,660,000
Outstanding		340,000
Of these outstanding, 69 were purchased out of earnings and are owned by the company		69,000
Leaving in the hands of the public		271,000

Through the operation of the sinking fund this indebtedness will be redeemed in 1908.

First mortgage 4½ per cent twenty-year gold bonds:
Authorized issue of	$4,000,000
Held by the public	2,143,000
Redeemed by annual sinking fund drawings	1,261,000
Held in company's treasury	596,000
		4,000,000

Through the operation of the sinking fund, in due course, this indebtedness would have been reduced by 1917, the due date of the mortgage, to $1,199,000; but by Congressional enactment a sufficient amount was appropriated and has been advanced to the company to liquidate and pay off the entire amount of outstanding bonds as of date October 1, 1907.

At the last session of Congress the sum of $2,298,367.50 was appropriated to enable the company to redeem, at 105 and accrued interest, in accordance with the terms of the mortgage, all of its outstanding first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, and due notice was accordingly given that said bonds would be retired on October 1, 1907. The company having made the required annual payment of $150,000 to the trustees on August 1, 1907, only $2,148,367.50 was needed from the Government, for which amount a note to the order of the United States, dated October 1, 1907, bearing interest at 2½ per cent annum, payable semiannually, has been executed and liver[illegible] Treasurer of the United States. The amount ad[illegible] the company is to be liquidated by the payment of $100,000 to the Government on the 1st of August in each year. To date 2,657 bonds have been presented for payment.

The result of the company's operations for the period covered by this report shows that after the payment of cost of operation and all fixed charges there remained net earnings of $1,049,551.56, which have been used for improvements and construction, the expenditures therefor during this fiscal year, as shown by Exhibit F, amounting to $2,011,186.75.

During the fiscal year there was borrowed from the United States Government $1,197,892.77, all of which was expended, in addition to the net earnings, for improvements and construction.

Gross revenue receipts, expenditures, and net earnings for twelve months ending June 30, 1907, compare, as under, with those of the twelve months ending June 30, 1906:

	Earnings.	Operating expenses.	Earnings over operating expenses.
1907	$5,199,510.69	$3,610,574.30	$1,588,936.39
1906	3,917,840.28	3,116,059.01	801,781.27
Increase in 1907	1,281,970.41	494,515.29	787,155.12

EARNINGS.

RAILROAD.

The total earnings of the railroad for the transportation of all kinds of traffic show an increase of $1,068,072.18, or 41.55 per cent over twelve months of previous year. Of this increase in revenue, $670,937.39 was derived from merchandise and coal freight, $461,464.15 being increase on westbound business and $209,473.24 increase on eastbound business. Passenger earnings increased $126,429.37 and mail earnings increased $13,010.22.

Freight traffic from New York and New Orleans to South Pacific ports increased 6,734 tons, to Panama 5,957 tons, and to Central America and Mexico 5,170 tons. From Europe to Central America and Mexico there was an increase of 3,262 tons and to south Pacific ports an increase of 12,679 tons.

Traffic from Central America and Mexico to Europe decreased 171 tons and from south Pacific ports to Europe there was an increase of 11,050 tons.

The following table shows the freight tonnage carried over the railroad for twelve months ending June 30, 1907, including company freight, as compared with the twelve months ending June 30, 1906:

[Ton of 2,000 pounds, or 40 cubic feet.]

	Twelve months ending June 30—		Increase.
	1907.	1906.
	Tons.	Tons.	Per cent.
Carried westbound	640,132	409,800	56.17
Carried eastbound	296,214	255,831	15.79
Total west and east bound	936,346	665,711	40.65

The gross earnings per ton moved on the road compare as follows:

	Twelve months ending June 30—		Increase.	Decrease.
	1907.	1906.
			Per cent.	Per cent.
Westbound	$2.71	$3.03	.....	10.50
Eastbound	2.58	2.32	11.21	.....
Average west and east bound	2.67	2.76	.....	3.26

Exhibit L, accompanying this report, shows the origin and destination of the freight carried over the railroad.

The total revenue freight traffic of the railroad during the twelve months ending June 30, including both merchandise and coal, was 894,824 tons, an increase of 272,550 tons, or 43.80 per cent. The total revenue derived from this traffic was $2,389,327.07, an increase of $670,937.39, or 39.04 per cent.

In addition to the above freight, 41,522 tons of company's freight and 1,832 tons of mails and excess baggage were hauled.

Of the total freight tonnage carried, 68.36 per cent was westbound and 31.64 per cent eastbound. In 1906 the percentages were 61.57 per cent and 38.43 per cent, respectively.

The through traffic was 40.66 per cent of the total tonnage handled, as against 50.83 per cent for twelve months ending June 30, 1906.

Coal (including company's) comprised 45.87 per cent of the local traffic westbound.

The following statements show the number of passengers carried and the passenger earnings:

NUMBER OF PASSENGERS CARRIED.

Classification.	1907.	1906.	Increase.	Decrease.
			Per cent.	Per cent.

Local	.44	.59	.....	25.42
Second-class passengers:
Through	4.24	4.45	.....	4.72
Local	.28	.31	.....	9.68

The gross revenue from the transportation of passengers was $326,576.29, an increase of $126,429.37, or 63.17 per cent, while the number of passengers carried show an increase of 434,047, or 96.84 per cent.

The revenue received from through passengers increased $941.80, or 3.10 per cent, and the number of passengers increased 602, or 8.69 per cent, as compared with the twelve months ending June 30, 1906.

Local passengers show an increase of $125,486.57 in revenue, or 73.89 per cent, and 433,445 in number carried, or 98.22 per cent.

MISCELLANEOUS RAILROAD RECEIPTS.

The total receipts of the several accounts grouped together under this heading amounted to $754,090.20, an increase of $251,071.28, or 49.91 per cent, over twelve months ending June 30, 1906.

The receipts for wharfage at Panama and La Boca and lighterage of cargo in Panama Bay, which are included above show an increase of $22,555.17.

STEAMSHIP LINE.

The total earnings of the company's steamship line were $1,560,910.48, an increase of $213,898.23, or 15.88 per cent, over the twelve months ending June 30, 1906.

Freight traffic increased 16,578 tons, or 8.36 per cent, and the revenue therefrom increased $96,608.40, or 11.38 per cent.

Passengers show an increase of 2,908 in number carried, or 25.85 per cent, and an increase in earnings of $78,130.16, or 24.70 per cent.

The increase in revenue from the transportation of mails was $36,199.45, or 23.18 per cent.

Of the total tonnage transported, 108,899 tons were carried by the company's steamers and 105,971 tons by chartered steamers. In the twelve months ending June 30, 1906, the former carried 97,472 tons and the latter 100,820 tons.

EXPENDITURES.

The operating expenses for the twelve months ending June 30, 1907 and 1906, compare as under.

	1907.	1906.	Increase.
Railroad	$2,208,526.77	$1,731,888.55	$476,638.22
Steamship line	1,402,347.53	1,384,170.46	18,177.07
Total	3,610,874.30	3,116,059.01	494,815.29

This table shows an increase of $494,815.29 in total operating expenses, while there was an increase in total earnings of $1,281,970.41 (see pages 21 and 22).

RAILROAD.

CONDUCTING TRANSPORTATION.

The expenses of this department show an increase of $93,966.84, or 10.27 per cent, over the preceding fiscal year, while the tonnage handled shows an increase of 270,635 tons, or 40.65 per cent.

The increase in cost of conducting transportation is due solely to the increased tonnage handled during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, over that handled during the previous year to June 30, 1906. The subjoined statement shows the number of trains handled during the past year, to June 30, 1907, and also makes a comparison between the month of June, 1906 and 1907, showing the increase in the number of trains handled.

a Denotes decrease.

NOTE.—The largest number of trains passed busiest point (Las Cascadas) in one day, 196.

Total number train orders issued during year, 21,985, or 60 orders per day, approximately, of which number the Isthmian Canal Commission business is accountable for 40, or 67 per cent.

MAINTENANCE OF EQUIPMENT.

The expenses of this department show an increase of $194,400.62, or 140.30 per cent. This unusual result is accounted for by the fact that a great many old cars have been destroyed during the year, and their book value charged to operating expenses. The old and lighter equipment can not, without constant repairs, be used with the new and heavier equipment, and when the condition of the old equipment is such that repairs are not warranted the cars are destroyed.

The necessity for purchasing further equipment to take the place of the old equipment being destroyed and to handle the constantly increasing business is apparent.

In addition to the regular maintenance of equipment work, including extensive repairs to 18 Panama Railroad locomotives, the following new equipment has been received and erected complete and placed in service:

Roger ballast cars, 80,000 pounds capacity	100
Completing order of 500 new box cars:
Box cars, 80,000 pounds capacity	273
Stock cars, 80,000 pounds capacity	10
Caboose cars	12
Roger ballast center plows	2
First-class coaches, length, 68 feet	7
Second-class coaches, length, 68 feet	2
Baggage and mail cars, length 68 feet	2

Two first-class and 8 second-class coaches and 2 baggage cars, on hand, being set up.

At the shops of the railroad company there have also been erected for the Isthmian Canal Commission:

114-ton Cooke mogul locomotives	14
105-ton Baldwin mogul locomotives	20
Lidgerwood flat cars, 80,000 pounds capacity, extension sides	700
Western dump cars, 80,000 pounds capacity (on order for 300)	128

On November 15, 1906, the railroad company began using the shops leased from the Commission at Cristobal, since which time the vacated shops at Colon have been used only for the erection of cars.

MAINTENANCE OF WAY AND STRUCTURES.

The expenses of this department increased $96,855.92, or 28.15 per cent, principally on account of heavy tie and ballast renewals, due to increased traffic. The maintenance during the next fiscal year will show a very large increase, account of heavy expense keeping up the new second main line, which is almost entirely laid on embankment and will settle badly, also extensive rail renewals will have to be made and two wharves extensively repaired.

Track department.

The building of the new double track and rebuilding of the old line has been practically completed. The statements below show in detail the work which has been accomplished. All of the double track is in use except 4 miles, from Gatun to Lion Hill, and this 90 per cent completed.

The following table shows the number of miles of new second main line constructed:

Location.	Laid and ballasted.	Laid and not ballasted.	70-pound rail.	Number of ties (22-inch center).	Yards gravel (15-inch raise).
	Miles.	Miles.	Feet.

Total	21⅞	5⅜	286,440	78,120	68,784

There remains but one-half mile of track to be laid from milepost 6⅝ to milepost 7⅛, the grade for which is completed.

The old main line has been relaid as follows:

	Miles.	Kind of steel.		Ballasted with—
		Taken up.	Put down.
From Colon to milepost 2	2	56-pound	70-pound	Rock and gravel.
From milepost 33½ to milepost 36½.	2½	70-pound	do	Gravel.
Total	4½

Twenty-seven miles have been reballasted with gravel and 60,000 cross-ties have been removed.

New side and house tracks, all laid with 70-pound steel and ballasted with gravel, except at Corozal, where stone ballast was used, have been constructed as follows:

Bridge and building department.

Ninety-four bridges and culverts have been extended for the second main line to a total of 3,500 feet, at an average cost per structure of $428.92.

Eight new passenger and freight depots have been constructed at Pedro Miguel, Bas Obispo, Matachin, Gorgona, Tabernilla, Lion Hill, Gatun, and Cristobal, and the old depots at Bohio and Colon have been remodeled and enlarged so as to accommodate the increased business. These, with the depots which were rebuilt and enlarged during the years 1905 and 1906, make an entirely new or enlarged list of passenger and freight stations from Colon to Panama.

At Pedro Miguel and at Matachin new 50,000-gallon water tanks and standard water columns have been installed.

Section houses for quartering foremen and laborers have been built at Panama, Corozal, Culebra, Empire, Gorgona, and Gatun. In addition to these, others are to be built at Pedro Miguel, Bas Obispo, Tabernilla, and Lion Hill. These provide quarters for 12 to 14 laborers in the second story, and have 3 rooms for the section foremen in the first story.

At Cristobal 3 new 2-story compartment buildings have been erected for married employees, providing for a total of 12 families. Other "bachelor" quarters have been built to accommodate 40 shop employees. At Colon 2 cottages have been built for 1 and 2 families, respectively, and a general office building 112 feet square has also been constructed near wharf No. 1, in what is locally known as "Shaler Park."

A concrete steel oil house 30 by 40 feet, a concrete steel coal-storage and ice plant 110 by 200 feet (having a capacity of 50 tons of ice per day and 90,000 cubic feet of refrigeration space), new steel buildings for laundry, bakery, a frame dry kiln 30 by 60 and a new storehouse 35 by 125, and an additional commissary storehouse, 70 by 120, have also been completed.

The new fast coal-handling plant at wharf No. 14 has been completed and is in use. The coal chute, roundhouse, and cinder pit at the Cristobal terminal have been completed, and a new boiler shop is planned and will be erected during 1907. These, with the machine shops and the accompanying storage and car yards, make the Cristobal railroad terminal complete in every respect.

Wharf No. 11, at Cristobal, has been completed and 9,350 additional square feet of roof has been added. A foreman's office, ticket office, tool room, waiting and baggage rooms have been constructed on the wharf.

Extensive repairs are under way on wharf No. 4, and an addition of 12 feet on the north side is to be made to facilitate the handling of freight.

Wharves Nos. 1 and 2 are being strengthened, repaired, and painted, at a total cost of $75,000.

Twenty-seven thousand square feet of corrugated iron roofing have been put on the triangular wharf at La Boca, and 54,000 square feet on the new lumber wharf. The capacity of the steel pier at La Boca has been more than doubled by lowering the narrow freight handling platform to a level with the original tracks and by building an adjoining extension at a lower level for the handling of cars to and from the dock.

Eight new electric cranes of 4 tons capacity each being installed on the La Boca wharf are 50 per cent completed.

STEAMSHIP LINE.

Earnings of the company's steamship line were $1,560,910.48, or an increase of 15.88 per cent, while operating expenses were $1,402,347.53, an increase of but $18,177.01, or 1.31 per cent. This very encouraging outcome was accomplished despite the fact that there were 74 round trips made this year as against 65 last year, an increase of 13.85 per cent in the efficiency of the line, and considering the almost horizontal advances made in wages and the greater cost of nearly everything used in transportation, must be regarded as a satisfactory result.

The total cargo of all classes carried between New York and Colon by our line was 214,870 tons, as against 198,292 tons last year, or an increase of 8.45 per cent.

The active competition of two important foreign lines for traffic heretofore handled solely by this company's line has been followed by the outcome which generally results from an increase in facilities, viz, a material increase in the aggregate of tonnage to be transported.

The number of passengers carried both ways by our vessels, mostly employees of the Canal Commission and their families, has taxed their capacity, which has been enlarged from time to time as possible.

Competing lines have afforded little, if any, relief in this traffic, as the company's vacation rates to its own employees and those of the Canal Commission do not apply by those lines.

Operating expenses have been seriously affected by cost of important repairs of wear and tear to our ships, due to the necessity to turn them round rapidly in port, in order to accomplish the increase in their total voyages, so much so that a reduction in round voyages for next year has been determined upon.

The company's dock facilities in New York Harbor have not yet been enlarged, because no others are obtainable except by unwarranted outlays. However, arrangements are under way to lengthen the company's pier about 100 feet, to the new pierhead line, and the advisability of securing an unloading berth on the Hoboken side of the Hudson River is being considered.

At the Isthmus the company's vessels are now berthed and rapidly handled at our Cristobal docks in the mouth of the canal; additional berths in Colon Harbor are thus provided for the vessels of our co-carriers.

During the year our S. S. Advance and Finance were equipped with large cold-storage space, and Alliança now under reconstruction will be similarly fitted. The refrigerating plants installed on S. S. Colon and Panama (under charter from the Canal Commission) may be enlarged.

Alliança, already withdrawn from service for the purpose, is to be practically rebuilt at a contract cost of $340,000, with an increase in her capacity of 900 tons, and completed early in 1908. To replace Alliança while out of service (because a suitable one of American registry was unobtainable) a British vessel of large capacity has been chartered.

COMMISSARY DEPARTMENT.

The commissary department has developed into a well-organized and well-stocked modern department store comprising, besides the main store and the industrial and production plants at Cristobal, seven branch stores located at Gatun, Gorgona, Empire, Culebra, Rio Grande, Paraiso, and Pedro Miguel. Four additional stores are being opened at Bas Obispo, Tabernilla, Las Cascadas, and La Boca.

With the completion in July of the new cold storage and ice plants at Cristobal excellent cold storage facilities will be provided, and by the closing down of the temporary cold storage plant at Colon all cold storage articles and ice will be handled from one plant, with increased efficiency and less cost.

The opening of the new bakery and laundry plants in January and April respectively added to the commissary department two very important features.

Operations for the fiscal year are shown below:

Pay roll		52,527.49
Other expenses		26,993.51
Total		79,520.99

Per cent store expense to total business, 3.4.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

There has been considerable increase in revenue from land rents since January 1, 1907, owing to the new rates of rental adopted for Colon lots, which now average 6⅔ cents per square foot, or $260 per lot (30 by 130), annually, against 2⅔ cents per square foot, or $110 per lot prior to January 1.

All lots requiring new leases were advertised for public bids, and following the policy of giving preference to those who previously held leases all such persons have secured new leases to cover the lots they had.

Practically all of the Colon building lots have been filled to a level of 4 feet above sea level, in accordance with sanitary requirements, and another row of blocks between D and E streets is being filled by hauling dirt from Gatun.

The title to a large tract of land near Empire which has long been disputed by Senor Santiago Saundio was decided by the Canal Zone circuit court in favor of the Panama Railroad, and a new town site has been platted and lots leased, which will yield material revenue from rentals.

TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE DEPARTMENT.

The telegraph and telephone line across the Isthmus was practically completed June 30, 1906, and the work in this department during the past year has been principally that of connecting up new telegraph and telephone stations and establishing new telephone centrals.

Thirty-seven thousand nine hundred feet of 10 and 20 pair cables, 400 miles of galvanized wire, 60 miles of copper wire, and 10 miles twisted pair wire have been strung.

Nine telephone switchboards have been installed at Gorgona, Tivoli Hotel, Culebra, Colon, Ancon Hospital, Empire, Gatun, Paraiso, and Mount Hope. A total of 310 telephones have been installed.

Fourteen 4-blade semaphore signals and 4 Hall automatic electric signals have been put into use for the operation of trains by block system.

The construction of additional sidings and yards and the development of dump grounds of the Isthmian Canal Commission have necessitated the moving of 447 telegraph poles, or a total of 11.2 miles of the line.

The increasing demand for telephone service indicates that during the coming year one additional cross arm carrying 6 copper wires will have to be added to the present line across the Isthmus.

CONSTRUCTION OF RELOCATED LINE OF ROAD.

About the middle of May the work of relocating the line of the Panama Railroad necessitated by canal construction plans was begun, and since that time 10 connection tracks have been started, to extend from the now operated line over to the relocated line at various places. The work of building these interchange tracks for the purpose of handling machinery, men, and supplies for doing the necessary grading has been 75 per cent completed, and a force of 1,000 men, 4 steam shovels, and 1 pile driver is at work on the actual construction of the new line.

Inasmuch as this work is made necessary by the building of the Panama Canal the Canal Commission is to reimburse the railroad company for all expenses in connection with the work and furnish all of the construction material which is to be used. This line, when finished, will leave the present line at Mindi and will be located at a distance of from one-half to 1½ miles east of the existing line from Mindi to a point about 1 mile north of Panama.

There are practically no grades on the new line except from Mindi to Gatun, where the rise will be at a rate of 52 feet per mile, and from Pedro Miguel to Panama, where the downward grade will be slightly less. Curvature on the new line is on the whole less objectionable than the existing line, but there will be some sharp curves on account of line being of necessity located among the hills in order to maintain the high elevation necessary to keep above the level of the Gatun Lake.

The high elevation maintained necessitates a very large percentage of the road being built on embankment, to a total amount approximating 12,000,000 cubic yards, while the excavation is about 3,000,000 cubic yards. The greater portion of the grading of the new road being embankment it will be made from material excavated and hauled from the Culebra Cut and dumped from trestles which will be driven on the location of the relocated railroad.

ELECTRICAL DEPARTMENT.

The electrical department has installed during the past year 3,003 incandescent lights and 78 arc lamps. The plant at Colon has so far been able to meet all demands made upon it, but at present is carrying an overload of 15 per cent. Plans are now being prepared for the erection of a new plant at Cristobal with sufficient capacity to supply current for not only Colon and Cristobal, but also for Gatun.

The new La Boca electric light plant is 60 per cent completed, and with the completion of this plant there will be considerable surplus power.

GENERAL REMARKS.

During the period from January 1, 1894, to June 30, 1907, inclusive, the percentage of total expenses to gross earnings was as follows:

	Per cent.
1894	69.93
1895	61.63
1896	53.94
Including taxes and appropriations for depreciation, etc.:
1897	61.12
1898	64.91
1899	64.66
1900	65.25
1901	64.72
Or including Pacific Line not operated in 1900	76.34
1902—
Including taxes and appropriations for depreciation, etc	65.87
Or including Pacific Line operated for six months	71.02
Including appropriations for depreciation and special repairs:
1903	66.01
1904	63.69
1905	77.49
1906, June 30 (12 months)	79.54
1907, June 30 (12 months)	69.44

During the year all of the necessary additional passing sidings and storage tracks made necessary by the enormously increased business due to Isthmian Canal Commission dirt trains have been completed. The new second track is in use except for a short distance and the old track is entirely rebuilt, so that at the end of the year the congestion, which had become serious, has been almost entirely eliminated.

With the completion of repairs at wharves Nos. 1 and 2, all of the company's wharves will be in good condition and the entire line, including terminals, will be in shape to care for a very great tonnage without delay, extra expense, or congestion.

The block system of dispatching trains has been put into use on all double track, affording the freest possible movement of trains consistent with safety. All freight trains except one local in each direction are run at night. The extra expense of handling these trains at night, as well as the additional expense account of operators to handle the block signal station, is incurred in order to handle Isthmian Canal Commission trains with the least possible delay during working hours.

During December, 1906, a historical flood occurred, due to a rise of the Chagres River, which at Matachin reached an elevation of 78 feet, or 33 feet above low water. Fifteen miles of the track between Mindi and Bas Obispo were under from 1 to 8 feet of water, but aside from softening the new double track embankment and washing away about 200 cross-ties, no serious damage was done. Traffic was interrupted from 10 a. m. December 3 until 6 a. m. December 6.

The density of traffic has been so great that a 70-pound rail has proved entirely too light; it became necessary to change out the rail on several sharp curves before it had been in actual use more than fifteen months. An order has been placed for 3,000 tons of 90-pound rail to replace the 70-pound on all curves between Tabernilla and Las Cascadas, where there is the heaviest movement of dirt trains.

Operation of new coal-handling plant at wharf No. 14 has so far facilitated the unloading of colliers, by increasing the rate of discharge to 700 tons daily at a rate of only 20 cents per ton, that the company was able to secure a freight rate Norfolk, etc., to Colon, of $1.52 per ton, as against $1.65 per ton formerly.

Between June 30, 1906, and February 22, 1907, 2,023 tons of ice were manufactured by the Colon ice plant, a quantity that was insufficient to meet the demand; the Colon plant was partly closed down, and since February 22 the new plant at Cristobal has produced 3,292 tons and has capacity to more than meet present requirements.

At the annual election held in April, 1907, Directors T. P. Shonts, John F. Stevens, Charles E. Magoon, B. M. Harrod, William Nelson Cromwell, J. D. de Obaldia, Roger L. Farnham, and W. Leon Pepperman retired, and were replaced by George W. Goethals, J. C. S. Blackburn, D. DuB. Gaillard, W. C. Gorgas, H. H. Rousseau, Richard Reid Rogers, Jackson Smith, and W. L. Sibert, the newly appointed members of the Isthmian Canal Commission, and the chairman of the Commission was elected president of the railroad.

Mr. Drake was elected vice-president and Mr. Richard Reid Rogers, general counsel, and Mr. W. G. Bierd, general manager on the Isthmus, was also appointed assistant to the president.

Respectfully submitted.

GEORGE W. GOETHALS, President.

EXHIBITS.

PANAMA RAILROAD COMPANY,
ACCOUNTING DEPARTMENT,
New York, N. Y., October 17, 1907.

DEAR SIR: I herewith submit statements of income account, general balance sheet, and tables showing results of operations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, as follows:

Exhibit A. Income account and profit and loss account.
Exhibit B. General balance sheet.
Exhibit C. Earnings and expenses.

USELESS PAPERS IN POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

LETTER

FROM

THE ACTING POSTMASTER-GENERAL

TRANSMITTING

A SCHEDULE OF PAPERS AND DOCUMENTS NOT NEEDED IN THE TRANSACTION OF THE PUBLIC BUSINESS.

JANUARY 23, 1908.—Referred to the Joint Select Committee on Disposition of Useless Executive Papers and ordered to be printed.

OFFICE OF THE POSTMASTER GENERAL,
Washington, D. C., January 22, 1908.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a schedule of papers and documents which are not needed in the transaction of public business and which have no permanent value or historical interest:

1. Files relating to the personnel in first and second class post-offices for the years 1899, 1900, 1901, and 1902.
2. Certain miscellaneous files covering the years prior to 1902.
3. Reports relative to delivery boxes used in post-offices.
4. Schedules of box-rent rates.

NOTE: The papers listed in the above four items are now in the storeroom of the storage building.

5. Statements of the weights of mails dispatched to foreign countries from July 1, 1905, to June 30, 1906, except those relating to the dispatch from Honolulu, Hawaii, to foreign ports.
6. Routine reports in connection with details of contract ocean mail service from July 1, 1905, to June 30, 1906.
7. Miscellaneous letters and papers of no permanent value received up to December 31, 1906, which have been fully acted upon and which are, therefore, of no value for future reference.

NOTE.—The papers listed in items 5, 6, and 7 are stored in the bureau of the Second Assistant Postmaster-General.

8. Bound copies of postmasters' requisitions for postage stamps, stamp books, stamped envelopes, and postal cards for years prior to 1904.
9. Books containing press copies of the Department's orders on the several distributing agencies for the issue of stamped paper prior to 1904.

10. Postmasters' stock reports on form 3240 for years prior to 1906.
11. Copies of old publications sent to the Division of Classification as exhibits in connection with cases relating to the second-class of mail matter.
12. Correspondence over two years old relating to minor irregularities in the registry service.
13. Requisitions over one year old from postmasters for registry supplies.

NOTE.—The papers listed in items 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13 are stored in the bureau of the Third Assistant Postmaster-General.

14. Petitions for rural-delivery service, duplicate jackets, and other papers no longer necessary in connection with investigation and report on such petitions filed up to and including December 31, 1906.
15. Petitions for rural-delivery service adversely reported up to and including December 31, 1905.
16. Routine inspection reports relating to the efficiency of carriers' service which show no irregularities received up to and including December 31, 1907; also a lot of old general inspection reports on the condition of rural service.
17. All substitute rural carrier bonds executed prior to July 1, 1905, and the bonds of regular rural carriers where such carries have been separated from the service for five years or more.
18. Press copy books containing requests on the Civil Service Commission for certifications to fill vacancies in the position of rural carrier.
19. Correspondence and copies of correspondence relating to the transmission of maps of rural delivery service.
20. Fifty-nine record books of inspections.
21. Inspection reports on depredations on rural mail boxes.
22. Miscellaneous record books showing work done by special agents and route inspectors.
23. Certifications of eligibles for appointment to the position of rural carrier and letters of appointment.
24. Miscellaneous correspondence not relating to any particular case and embodying no orders or instructions up to and including December 31, 1906.
25. Correspondence relating to the appointment, salaries, and the conduct of rural carriers up to and including December 31, 1905, except orders and instructions.

NOTE.—The papers, etc., listed in items 14 to 25, inclusive, are stored in the division of rural delivery, bureau of the Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General.

26. Cases relating to registered matter, Class A, Nos. 147935 to 167890, both numbers inclusive, covering the period from January 1, 1903, to December 31, 1904, making a total of 19,956 cases.
27. Cases relating to the ordinary mail, Class B, Nos. 316606 to 559337, both numbers inclusive, covering the period from December 15, 1903, to December 31, 1905, making a total of 242,732 cases.
28. Cases relating to miscellaneous matters, Class C, Nos. 216100 to 427942, both numbers inclusive, covering the period from June 19, 1896, to December 31, 1901, making a total of 211,843 cases.
29. Cases relating to matter dispatched to or from foreign countries, Class F, Nos. 1 to 56966, both numbers inclusive, covering the period from January 1, 1903, to December 31, 1904, making a total of 56,967 cases.
30. Jackets and carbon jackets of "S" cases, Nos. 1 to 80000, both numbers inclusive, covering the period up to May 31, 1906.
31. Jackets of "I" cases up to and including 63306, series of 1905.
32. Time cards prior to January 1, 1906.
33. Daily bulletins prior to January 1, 1907.
34. Data for monthly reports prior to January 1, 1907.
35. Advices of the appointment clerk affecting appointments, promotions, resignations, and dismissals of post-office inspectors and rural agents prior to July 1, 1907.
36. Records of pay accounts of post-office inspectors prior to July 1, 1903, and records of pay accounts of rural agents prior to July 1, 1904.
37. Applications of post-office inspectors, rural agents, and clerks at division headquarters for leave of absence prior to January 1, 1906, and records of leave of absence granted prior to January 1, 1906.
38. Monthly certifications of inspectors in charge of salaries due post-office inspectors and rural agents prior to July 1, 1907.
39. Cash statements from January 1, 1887, to December 31, 1901, inclusive.

40. Miscellaneous correspondence relating to cash transactions but not identified with any cases, from December 1, 1897, to December 31, 1904, inclusive, comprising packages Nos. 1 to 15, inclusive.
41. Letter copy books Nos. 1 to 29, inclusive, July 1, 1882, to June 30, 1901, of cash receipts, authorization forms, payment schedules, deposit schedules, miscellaneous forms, etc.
42. Lists of cases on hand in the various divisions June 30, 1905, and June 30, 1906.
43. Forms 562 and 591 prior to July, 1907.
44. Forms 594 and 595 prior to July, 1907.
45. Statements of clerks in regard to cases referred and returned and on hand in the various sections of this office prior to July, 1907.
46. Requisitions of clerks for supplies prior to January 1, 1908.
47. Receipts of division headquarters for supplies prior to January 1, 1908.

NOTE.—The papers, etc., listed under items 26 to 47, inclusive, are stored in the office of the Chief Inspector. Such cases and papers as, from their nature or for other reasons, it is thought best to retain permanently, to be excepted from the above items.

Respectfully,

F. H. HITCHCOCK,
Acting Postmaster-General.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WITH A COPY OF A COMMUNICATION FROM THE CHIEF OF THE SECOND DIVISION GENERAL STAFF CORPS, A REPORT OF DOCUMENTS DISTRIBUTED BY THE WAR DEPARTMENT DURING THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1907.

JANUARY 24, 1908.—Referred to the Committee on Printing and ordered to be printed.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, January 23, 1908.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a letter of the 17th instant from the Chief Second (Military Information) Division, General Staff Corps, in charge of the distribution of War Department documents, approved by the Chief of Staff, transmitting a report of the documents distributed by the War Department during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907, in accordance with the requirements of the act of Congress approved January 12, 1895.

Very respectfully,

WM. H. TAFT,
Secretary of War.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF STAFF.
Washington, January 17, 1908.

SIR: In compliance with the requirements of section 92 of the act of Congress approved January 12, 1895, I have the honor to make the following report of the distribution of official documents, regulations, manuals, publications, etc., pertaining to the War Department duri the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907.

The report shows there were 182,263 publications on hand on July 1, 1906. There were 280,215 received and there were 264,059 volumes distributed during the year, leaving a balance of 198,419 on hand July 1, 1907.

In this connection it may be stated that the report includes all of the professional publications, reports, text-books, regulations, manuals, handbooks, etc., received and issued by the War Department for the information, instruction, and guidance of all branches of the Army, service schools, and the National Guard of the several States and Territories; the exchanges authorized by the law of January 12, 1895, including those furnished to foreign embassies and legations, as well as copies for the official use of the Executive Departments, Members of Congress, military libraries, associations, and individuals. Under section 17 of the act of Congress approved January 21, 1903, the cost of the publications issued to the National Guard is reimbursed to the War Department from the appropriation for the militia under section 1661, Revised Statutes, as amended.

Very respectfully,

T. W. JONES,
Lieutenant-Colonel General Staff,
Chief Second (Military Information) Division,
In Charge Distribution War Department Documents.

The SECRETARY OF WAR.

Approved:
J. F. BELL,
Major-General, Chief of Staff.

DOCUMENTS RECEIVED AND DISTRIBUTED BY COMMERCE AND LABOR DEPARTMENT, 1907.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE AND LABOR,

TRANSMITTING

A DETAILED STATEMENT OF DOCUMENTS RECEIVED AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE DEPARTMENT DURING THE CALENDAR YEAR, 1907.

JANUARY 31, 1908.—Referred to the Committee on Printing and ordered to be printed.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND LABOR,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, January 30, 1908.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith, in compliance with the provisions of section 92 of the act approved January 12, 1895, entitled "An act to provide for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents" (28 Stat. L., 623), a detailed statement of the number of documents received and the number distributed by this Department during the calendar year 1907.

In addition to the publications herein enumerated, series of Department circulars and decisions have been issued of which no record has been kept.

A detailed record has been kept of the documents received and issued, and duplication in their distribution has been prevented so far as possible.

Respectfully, OSCAR S. STRAUS.
Secretary.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

REPORT OF THE AUDITOR OF PORTO RICO.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

TRANSMITTING,

WITH A COPY OF A COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR OF PORTO RICO, THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE AUDITOR OF PORTO RICO FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1907.

FEBRUARY 26, 1908.—Referred to the Committee on Insular Affairs and ordered to be printed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, February 24, 1908.

SIR: In compliance with section 23 of "An act temporarily to provide revenues and a civil government for Porto Rico, and for other purposes," approved April 12, 1900 (31 Stat. L., p. 82), I have the honor to transmit herewith the annual report of the auditor of the island of Porto Rico for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907.

Respectfully,

GEO. B. CORTELYOU,
Secretary.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE, PORTO RICO,
San Juan, January 29, 1908.

SIR: I have the honor to hand you herewith a letter from the auditor of Porto Rico under date of the 24th instant, transmitting the annual report of the auditor's office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, according to the provisions of section 23 of "An act to provide revenues and a civil government for Porto Rico, and for other purposes," approved April 12, 1900.

I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant,

RÉGIS H. POST,
Governor.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,
(Through the Secretary of the Interior),
Washington, D. C.

AUDITOR OF PORTO RICO,
San Juan, January 24, 1908.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith, through the governor of Porto Rico and through the Secretary of the Interior, the annual report of the auditor's office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, according to the provisions of section 23 of the "Act to provide revenues and a civil government for Porto Rico, and for other purposes" (31 Stat. L., 77), approved April 12, 1900.

I find that the other departments of the insular government have interpreted similar sections in the above-mentioned act to require the sending of an annual report. As regards the auditor's office, however, it seems that in previous years only a monthly report, giving the monthly transactions of the various branches of the insular service, has been submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury. This has been deemed a sufficient compliance with the act without sending a complete annual report.

I believe, nevertheless, that the annual report, with its accompanying exhibits and schedules, is far more useful, showing as it does the fiscal policy and results obtained in all activities of the insular government, changes in system and method, comparisons with former years as to the financial status, and the relation of income to outgo. While the monthly report was undoubtedly helpful in the first years of civil government in showing the current financial operations of the insular treasury, I have some doubts as to its present usefulness, as it is only in the annual report that final results can be given and the condition of the island compared with that of former years.

Very respectfully,

GEORGE CABOT WARD,
Auditor of Porto Rico.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

AUDITOR OF PORTO RICO

FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1907.

OFFICE OF THE AUDITOR,
San Juan, September 30, 1907.

SIR: In accordance with the provisions of section 23 of the act of Congress approved April 12, 1900 (31 Stat. L., 77), entitled "An act temporarily to provide revenues and a civil government for Porto Rico, and for other purposes," I have the honor to submit herewith my annual report on the operations of the department of the auditor, together with a statement of the financial transactions of the insular government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, with comments and comparisons thereon. A statement of the exhibits and schedules accompanying this report will be found on printed page 21. In my annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, I described briefly the system of audit and accounting as I had found it on reaching Porto Rico and the conclusions that I later formed as to its serious defects. In order that the department of the auditor might properly fulfill its important functions and assume its rightful place in the activities of the insular government, I recommended radical changes in the system and advocated the introduction of more modern methods into the auditing and accounting work of the insular government.

DIRECT AUDIT SYSTEM.

During the fiscal year under review a large number of the proposed changes were made in accordance with my plan as outlined. One of the most important of these was the introduction of a system of direct audit. In the then existing system the auditor, contrary to the best modern practice, was passing upon payments some time after they had been made. Moreover, in consequence of the disbursing-officer system much duplication of work prevailed, with resulting complexity and unnecessary expense. It was only when the disbursing officer's accounts were submitted for audit, some weeks after payments had been made, that the record of such payments would reach the auditor's office. The disadvantage to the government and inconvenience to the auditor of being then called upon to correct duplicate, mistaken, and illegal payments, so long after the payees had received their money, will readily be understood. It will also be seen that as these statistics and records arrived at least two months behindhand they had lost much of their auditing and statistical value.

As a first step in bringing about the necessary changes in the system, I perfected a plan of audit before payment, and at the next session of the legislature introduced a bill which provided that all claims should be passed upon by the auditor and allowed by him on settlement warrant before they could be paid, with the exception of a few special cases of cash payments, or those of great urgency that would be paid by special disbursing officers. Further, this bill provided for a paymaster's bureau in the treasury department, instead of the former bureau of disbursements. This new bureau handles practically all the regular disbursements. It was urged against the bill that such a system of direct audit was not adapted to government work, but after protracted debate the bill passed the legislature with a number of changes, which, however, did not in any way affect the original idea as drafted in the bill. The act provided that the system of direct audit should go into effect July 1, 1907, and accordingly on that date the change was made. The new system in practice has given satisfaction, both to the auditor's office and to the heads of the other departments of the insular service. Payments have been promptly made, an excellent check secured that was formerly lacking, and the chances of duplicate or illegal payments reduced to a minimum. By the abolition of the disbursing office, the former duplication of accounts has been done away with, and the system of audit simplified. As between the expense of the paymaster's bureau compared with the former disbursing office, there has resulted an incidental saving for this year of $8,000 in salaries. Undoubtedly a still further saving of expense can be expected in the future. Furthermore, the new system enables us to keep the records of the office right up to date, and statistical information given heads of departments and the legislature is consequently of greatly enhanced value.

The method pursued in settling vouchers under the new system is as follows: The vouchers are received from the several insular departments, individually receipted for and stamped with the date of receipt by the division of claims and accounts of this office. They are then passed to the clerks, whose duty it is to examine them and verify certifications, prices, appropriations to which they are charged, etc., and to fully determine whether each voucher is a proper one for payment. The vouchers then go to the abstract clerk, who groups them together under their several appropriation heads, and abstracts them in triplicate. These abstract sheets are carefully checked and verified with the vouchers, and are then sent to the division of bookkeeping and warrants, where a warrant is drawn for the total amount of the abstracts then ready to be paid. After verification, these warrants are signed by the auditor, approved by the governor, and forwarded to the treasurer for payment by the paymaster in the treasury department. In this way the great mass of ordinary payments are settled. The following is the method employed: The treasurer gives the paymaster a draft equal to the total amount of the warrant. This draft is placed to the paymaster's credit in the bank, and against it he immediately draws checks for the several amounts making up the items of the abstract. This system permits the paymaster's account in the bank to be kept at a minimum figure, and has made it possible to greatly reduce the amount of his bond. Some payments, however, of large amount or unusual character, are settled on warrants which the treasurer prefers to pay direct, rather than through the paymaster.

RENDERING OF ACCOUNTS.

Hand in hand with the system of direct audit, another important change in accounting methods has been made, whereby all checks for payments—both by the paymaster and special disbursing officers—are verified in the auditor's office with the warrant or voucher upon which payment was made. The paymaster is required to render a monthly account showing, on one side, his receipts of treasurer's drafts and, on the other, his payments for which he has received paid checks back from the bank. The balance of his account is ordinarily made up of payments made by him but for which he has not received the paid checks from the bank. In the examination of this account the paymaster's checks that have been paid, canceled, and returned by the bank are individually compared with the warrants upon which they were drawn. Likewise, beginning October 1, special disbursing officers will be required, when rendering their accounts, to send in those of their checks which have been paid and returned by the bank, attached to the vouchers for which they are issued in payment. Under the old system of payment by disbursing officers their checks were periodically examined as to amounts in examinations made of the books of their offices, but these checks were never compared with the vouchers for which they were drawn in payment.

ORDER SYSTEM.

In conjunction with the direct audit, I have had introduced a new order system. The various departments of the government now have a regular form on which orders are made in triplicate; one remaining in the said department, another going to the one selling goods to the government, and the third to the auditor's office, to be used for the purpose of checking vouchers. It is believed that with the uniform order system developed, the auditor's office will have a far better check than previously upon the expenditures of the insular government.

PREMATURE RECEIPTING OF VOUCHERS ABOLISHED.

The previous practice of requiring firms dealing with the government to receipt their vouchers before presenting them for payment by the government authorities, was one which, to my mind, served no useful purpose. Such receipting is clearly of little or no value in proving subsequent payments. I therefore recently issued a general order abolishing this premature receipting. In place of the receipt I have had inserted on the new voucher forms a certificate for the prospective payee to sign, stating that the amount charged on the voucher is correct and just and that payment therefor has not previously been received.

REDUCING NUMBER OF VOUCHERS.

Much has been done during the past year, and particularly since the system of direct audit went into effect to simplify and reduce in number, wherever possible, the many vouchers that are sent to this office for audit. For example, take the many bills forwarded us every month by the insular police for house rent and water rent. I have recently had prepared a form similar to a pay roll, upon which the house rent and water rent of the several posts will be listed, a separate monthly roll being made for house rent and for water rent of each of the seven police districts of the island. Again, the teachers on the island—approximately 1,300—will be paid this year upon pay roll instead of upon separate vouchers, as in the past. The method devised for checking pay rolls in this case, has met, I think successfully, the objection raised that a pay-roll system, though simple, would not protect the government against fraud to the same extent as the former system. I believe that this part of the work can still be considerably simplified by the introduction of new forms and methods, and it will be my effort throughout the year to accomplish as much as possible in this direction.

Beginning July 1, 1907, another much needed change was effected. The receipts for the insane asylum from pay patients, which now come in at the rate of considerably over $5,000 a year, were divided into two equal parts, one of which is repaid to the subhead "Subsistence," and the other to the subhead "Clothing, bedding, etc.," of the appropriation "Contingent expenses, insane asylum," whereas formerly they went entirely to the subhead "Clothing, bedding, etc." It is thought that this change provides for a more equitable division of these repayment receipts.

In this connection I would call attention to a subject which the legislature should carefully consider at its next session, involving a branch of its policy as to government accounting. The various institutions of the government for whose maintenance the legislature appropriates every year, collect as agents for the government, through their institutional officers, certain receipts for services performed by various inmates of the institutions. As illustrations of this I might mention the pay patients' money above mentioned, the funds resulting from the sale of goods made by the prisoners in the penitentiary, and the proceeds of the sale of needlework of the girls in the girls' charity school, etc. The tendency in the past has been to have such receipts deposited in the insular treasury as repayments to the several appropriations made by the legislature for the support of said institutions. Under this system it is difficult for the legislature to tell beforehand how much money will be available during the year in any given appropriation beyond the sum which it contemplates setting aside. Another system would be for the legislature to make flat appropriations for whatever they deemed necessary for each institution, and any receipts resulting from services performed or money collected by the institution would enter the treasury as a receipt and not as a repayment and thus go into the general fund. In this way the legislature—the proper authority—certainly obtains a more complete control over the authorization of government expenditure. It might be urged contra, however, that the interest taken by the superintendents and inmates of the institutions in their work would be greatly diminished should they lack the assurance that the legislature would return to the institution by increased appropriations the money made through the work of the inmates.

During the year it has been frequently necessary to insist on the principle that any collections made by a government agent, whether an officer of an institution or otherwise, should be at once deposited by such agent in the insular treasury. This agent, furthermore, should be under an adequate bond. Ignorance of this principle has led in some cases to the retaining of such receipts and their use as ready cash in the current expenses of the institution, only the balance later being turned into the treasury.

ACCOUNTING FOR EXPENDITURE OF BOND PROCEEDS.

Before expenditures on account of the proceeds of the bond sale were entered into, a plan was made and adopted, after conference with the commissioner of the interior, for handling the accounting and bookkeeping between the two offices resulting from this large extension of work and expenditure.

NEW FORM OF RECEIPT.

On the initiative of the treasury department, a new form of receipt to be signed by the treasurer and countersigned by the auditor has been adopted and is now in use. This receipt, though scarcely larger than the former one, carries on its face divisions into which the sums from the various sources of insular receipts may be entered. In this way the number of receipts has been greatly reduced, it having formerly been necessary to make out a receipt representing each source of the deposit of government money that had been made. By this system also the bookkeeping of both offices has been considerably simplified.

FORM OF RENDERING ANNUAL REPORT.

The form of rendering the annual report this year is somewhat different from that of previous years. The former method seemed confusing. This was largely due to the disbursing officer system, and to the fact that the disbursements of most of the funds of the insular government were made before audit. This gave rise to a statement in the auditor's annual report of the expenditures on accountable warrants, and a further statement of audited expenditures. These statements would practically always be at variance, as in almost every appropriation there would be repayments or claims paid on settlement warrants, or other transactions that would vary somewhat the two statements. Consequently it was difficult for the nonexpert to distinguish between expenditures on accountable warrants and audited expenditures, thus giving rise to many questions as to which figures should be accepted in preparing statements. Hereafter, however, it will not be necessary to show advances on accountable warrants, since the disbursing officer system has gone out of existence. In this report, the advances on accountable warrants have been omitted, and a statement made of actual receipts and actual disbursements. It is believed that as far as the present arrangement of the books and records of this office will permit, the present form of report will clearly set forth the condition of the government at the close of the year under review, and its operations throughout the year.

This change will make it possible in our succeeding reports to greatly extend the range of statistics obtained from the figures received in the auditor's office; but even this year we are able to give much fuller statements as to the source of miscellaneous receipts, as well as more detailed statements in all the schedules showing the various activities of the government. Also the annual report can in future be prepared at an earlier date than formerly, as it is no longer necessary to wait for the disbursing officer to turn in his balances to the auditor's office. Further, the preliminary report formerly made to cover the months while waiting for these balances to be returned can now be omitted. It was always unsatisfactory and confusing when compared with the final report, and of somewhat doubtful value.

The statement of receipts and expenditures of the insular government (Exhibit B) is intended to set forth completely the transactions of the government for the year under review. With but a few exceptions these transactions are all of the nature of cash receipts and cash disbursements. There will probably be found a slight difference between the total receipts and total disbursements, as shown in this statement, with those of the treasurer's report, owing to a few transactions being shown in this exhibit that are not cash transactions. For instance, the item "Sales to the departments by the bureau of printing and supplies—transfer letters," $23,117.65, does not appear on the general (or cash) ledger as it is a book transaction consisting of a transfer by auditor's letter, after auditing bills of the bureau of printing and supplies[a] from the appropriations of a department, to which printing or supplies have been rendered, to the credit of the contingent appropriation of the bureau. As these charges to the appropriations of the various departments are included in the expenditure side of this statement (Exhibit B) it is necessary that they be shown on the receipt side in order to balance. Again, the item "Amount in hands of disbursing officer at close of fiscal year 1905–6, transferred to fiscal year 1906–7," $2,907.37, is, in this statement, included in the receipts, as it is made up of disbursing officer's balances carried over from the fiscal year 1905–6 and spent in the fiscal year under review. It thus appears in the expenditure side of this report and consequently is shown as a receipt in order to balance.

CONTRACTS.

The situation as regards the contracts made by the several government departments is considerably improved over that of last year. By a law passed in the last legislature it was enacted that goods purchased by these departments in sums of $300 or over could be contracted for only after public advertising for bids. The law in other respects makes strict requirements in regard to the acceptance of such bids and other details in the purchase of goods. It is too early yet to see clearly the practical results of this law, or to determine whether all its provisions had best be continued on the statute books. I believe that the large operating departments of the insular government are drawing their contracts more carefully now than a year ago, and that the copies thereof are being more promptly rendered to this office. Information to show why penalties have been waived and clauses in contracts voided is more freely given on request than formerly. It would be desirable, though impracticable with the present office force, to keep a contract ledger in which would be posted all contracts as soon as received in this office. As fast as payments were made upon these contracts, by reason of the work performed or material furnished, these payments would be set over against the contracts to which they applied. Thus a trial balance of this ledger at any time would show the total contractual obligations of the insular government, as well as the remaining obligations under any one of the individual contracts. When one takes into account the magnitude of the operations that the government is now carrying on, and that there is always a possibility of revenues becoming smaller or of the appropriations being unduly depleted within the year, it is easy to understand the importance of knowing at all times the current liabilities of the government and of each of its departments arising from contracts or other agreements.

RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS.

I regret that thus far it has been impracticable to change the present unsatisfactory receipt and disbursement method of keeping the government accounts to one of assets and liabilities—revenue and expense. The many advantages afforded by an asset and liability system of accounting are still hardly appreciated among officials and employees of the government. A corporation or business house could not do business successfully at the present day by merely keeping a record of the cash income and cash outgo, without keeping any record of the actual income and expenses, as well as changes in asset and liability accounts. The same principle should apply to government work, and I am sanguine that the present movement of government accountants will assist greatly in advancing this view. The subject is such an important one that I believe it deserves an illustration to show the radical weakness in this respect inherent in the existing system. To begin with, the insular government has not at present a complete list of its assets and liabilities. Available and complete schedules of insular government property, personal and real, with cost or value thereof, do not exist. There are no figures on the books showing the various current assets, such as taxes due and collectible during the current fiscal year, rentals, or other income accrued but not realized. Figures are lacking which, if properly assembled, would show the many contingent and actual liabilities of the government, such as accrued interest on bonds, bills payable, and claims outstanding. It is true that some of this information could be extracted from the books as they are at present, but a balance sheet showing the assets and liabilities of the government could not be drawn from them as at present constructed.

A proper accounting system would take the present cash-book record and allocate its items to asset and liability accounts or revenue and expense accounts. Besides the cash transactions there are many items, such as accruals, that should be taken into consideration in a comprehensive system of accounting. The many items that now stand on the books independently should be drawn together under a number of controlling accounts, which, when grouped in a balance sheet and a statement of revenue and expense, would show the condition of the government and the result of its operations. Consequently, at any time a balance sheet from the general ledger would disclose the correct financial standing of the government, and a revenue and expense statement from the general ledger would, at the close of any period, show the revenue and expense for that period.

I feel that the shortcomings of the present books and records in this direction are so great that I intend applying to the next legislature for the small special appropriation that will be necessary to install an adequate and comprehensive accounting system.

WORK OF OFFICE DIVISIONS.

It has been the attempt of the auditor's office throughout the past year to furnish as complete fiscal information as possible—whenever so requested—to the governor, the department heads, the executive council, the house of delegates, and the several commissions and citizens. When the legislature was in session I informed the speaker of the house of delegates that this office was at all times ready to furnish any statements or figures that could be of assistance to the delegates. A great deal of information was subsequently requested and furnished. It has been my endeavor to develop as much as possible this feature of the work of the auditor's office. The secretary of the house also courteously requested my collaboration in unifying and improving the system of accounts and records of his office. The fact is, however, that the auditor's office still continues, as in the past, to be greatly handicapped in its number of clerks, and consequently has been in a position where it can do little but keep up the regular routine work and correspondence that is imposed upon it by law.

It is my intention to earnestly urge the next legislature to allow in the auditor's budget an appropriation for establishing in this office a tax plant to contain all the records necessary to check and verify the various revenues of the island. At the present time the clerks of this office check the accounts of the revenue collectors from the tax plant of the treasurer's office. But since these records of the treasurer have already been largely used in arriving at the figures submitted by the collectors of internal revenue for audit, it is obvious that such a check is not adequate as would be the case if a tax plant were established, so that in this field, as in all others, the auditor would have independent records from which to check.

The usefulness of this office could be more extended in other ways were the legislature to grant further appropriations. Considerable additional work has been placed upon the several divisions of the auditor's office during the year as compared with former fiscal years. The work of the division of internal revenue has been naturally increasing from year to year since civil government was established. In addition to this natural increase a very radical change in the revenue law taxes the capacity of this division to the utmost. Formerly there were only eight collectors of internal revenue in the island. These rendered their accounts to the auditor's office, which accounts included the subcollections of the various deputy collectors under them, as well as their own collections. The new law made the deputies full collectors. This increases the number of collectors who are rendering their accounts independently to the auditor's office from 8 to 62. While the work of this division has been largely increased in this way, the increase has been somewhat minimized by the consolidation into one account of the several different accounts which each collector formerly rendered. This new account is so devised that the auditor can certify to it upon the same form that the collector renders, and thus saves a restating in this office of so many accounts. The increase in the number of loans to municipalities and school boards, as well as the monthly deductions of principal and interest on the same that have to be computed, has also considerably increased the work of the division. Furthermore, the division now devotes quite a little of its time to counting internal-revenue stamps received from the bureau of printing and supplies preparatory to turning them over to the treasurer and charging the latter therefor upon the books of this office.

The work of the division of claims and accounts has been completely changed by the introduction of the method of direct audit. The staff of this division, though enlarged by three additional clerks, has been taxed at times in handling the large number of vouchers presented for settlement. The method pursued in settling these vouchers by the new system has already been described. For the better handling of the work various clerks have been assigned to the examination of certain classes of departmental vouchers and pay rolls. In this way the several clerks can each specialize on the necessary knowledge required for passing on the vouchers. In a short time, when the department of the interior shall have completed its surveys and other preparations for road building, and when the additional force for this work is fully organized, the expenditures from the proceeds of the bond sale will reach a large monthly total. The examination of the many vouchers resulting from these expenditures will place a great deal of additional work on this office, and it may prove necessary to secure additional assistance to handle the increasing number of vouchers. The efficiency of this division would undoubtedly be greatly improved if it had sufficient personnel to enable it to keep full and complete records of information furnished by the several departments, current prices, etc., against which to check and verify the vouchers. There could also be much information of value furnished by this division if it were slightly enlarged.

Many changes also have been made in the division of bookkeeping and warrants. Much work and several books of account that were deemed unnecessary, or of little value, have been dispensed with, but in their stead several new books, mentioned elsewhere in this report, have been opened, in order to furnish additional information of statistical value both to this office and to the other departments in showing the operations of the government. In this division also the new law, which increased the number of collectors reporting independently to the auditor, greatly increased the number of accounts to be booked. This division has also had assigned to it the auditing of the paymaster's monthly account under the new system of direct audit, which involves the checking of a large number of paymaster's checks that have been returned by the bank against the warrants upon which they were issued. The division has also taken over the stamp records formerly kept by the division of internal revenue, which books have been revised so as to make their bookkeeping information more readily accessible. Two books, to be known as the register of receipts and the itemized statement of miscellaneous receipts, have been installed as of July 1, 1907. These books will furnish valuable statistical information in the way of analysis of all the receipts of the insular government, which has heretofore been lacking in this office.

For lack of sufficient personnel, also, it was found impossible to compile the statement desired by the treasury department from which to make an approximation of the true income and expenditure of the insular government from the beginning of civil government. As the new system in the auditor's office will enable us in the future to give true income and expenditure, it was therefore thought useful to get an approximation as near as possible of the past years. To do this it was necessary for the employees of the treasury department to come to the division of bookkeeping and warrants, and, with the cooperation of that division, to take off the necessary figures from the auditor's books.

This office at the last session of the legislature received an additional appropriation to provide for an examiner. Unfortunately, however, it has been necessary to retain this official constantly in the office on account of the large increase in office routine work. Nevertheless, the necessity is as great to-day as it was a year ago for an annual examination, and in some cases a semiannual examination of the various departments and offices of the insular service. I can not feel that the duties of the office are properly performed until it is possible to have one examiner constantly engaged in these outside examinations. As I said last year, I feel confident that the saving to the insular government resulting from the appointment of such examiners will exceed their salaries many times, as has happened in the case of the court examiner attached to this office.

SAVING EXCHANGE.

During the last year the insular government has been paying a more than usually large amount of exchange. All payments made by the treasurer or paymaster are by check upon a local bank. Consequently when purchases were to be made in the States a check upon a San Juan bank was used. In many cases a creditor would not object to the difference in exchange, but with the hardening of the money market the banks in the States have become more strict and have charged in many cases a rather high exchange rate on Porto Rican checks. A number of the insular government's creditors objected, and not a few made claims against it for the expense they were thus put to. I felt that the matter was of sufficient importance to justify the making of an effort to save this expense to the government, and therefore conferred with representatives of the local banks. The latter, after some correspondence, agreed to have their New York representatives cash all drafts of the treasurer and all checks of the paymaster at par. I have requested the treasurer and the paymaster to stamp upon their checks in favor of payees in the United States, the following words: "Muller, Schall & Co., bankers, New York City, will pay par in New York funds for this." As a result such drafts and checks are given the value of New York exchange.

LAWS AS TO BONDING INSULAR OFFICIALS, ETC.

The laws in regard to bonding insular officials are lacking in uniformity, so that it is at times extremely difficult for the one required to be bonded to know what department to apply to for the necessary information required. In some cases the auditor passes upon the amount, form, and execution of the bond, and the treasurer upon the amount and sufficiency of the sureties. In others, the attorney-general is the authority for passing on the form and execution, and the auditor determines the amount. I will earnestly recommend that this matter be taken up at the next session of the legislature, and that to the attorney-general, the proper authority in such matters, be given the decision as to form and execution of all bonds. This, I believe, is the uniform practice in most, if not all, of the States.

I believe the legislature should seriously consider appropriating funds for paying the premiums on the bonds that the law requires the various officials to give. At the present time these premiums must be paid by the individuals themselves. The result is a constant effort by these officers to get the amount of their bonds reduced to the lowest possible figure, so that they may thereby save more of their salary. It might be possible to do away with this pressure upon those having the responsibility of fixing the amount of the bonds by apportioning a regular amount in the budget toward the payment of the premiums in each case. Each department would have its contingent in the new budget increased correspondingly to take care of premiums. The amount of the premiums would have to be deducted from present salaries, but future changes in bonds would not affect salaries. The bonds of the various municipal treasurers are so low as to cause some difficulty when the amount of the loans made them by the insular government is advanced to the several municipalities. I have urged that some steps be taken, so that, in such cases, higher bonds may be required from such officers proportionate to the amount of the balance likely to be in their hands.

This office has insisted during the past year on the principle that expenditure made under direction of the different department heads would only be allowed when charged to the proper appropriation; that is to say, to an appropriation whose meaning and scope includes such expenditure. There was formerly too much freedom in charging vouchers against one of several funds where the auditor could only allow payment from the appropriation made by the legislature for such a purpose.

LOANS TO MUNICIPALITIES AND SCHOOL BOARDS.

The act of the legislative assembly approved March 10, 1904, provides that the executive council may make loans to the municipalities and school boards for their relief, when in its discretion it feels that a loan is necessary and that the balance in the insular treasury is sufficiently large. Under this act the executive council has in the past year made loans to a number of municipalities and school boards, as can be seen by reference to Exhibits C and D of this report. The loans to municipalities have increased from $120,168.76 at the beginning of the fiscal year, to $170,501.53 at the close, and in addition loans were authorized, but the advance of money not yet called for by the municipalities, to the amount of $207,685.71 at the close of the year. The loans to school boards have increased slightly from $32,894.79 at the beginning of the fiscal year to $35,398.30 at the close. In addition, loans to the amount of $9,000 were authorized, but had not yet been advanced at the close of the fiscal year By means of these loans the municipalities and school boards have been enabled to undertake many public works of permanent improvement, such as aqueducts and waterworks, new buildings, newly constructed streets, roads, and school buildings.

There probably has never been a more active year than the present one for the municipalities and school boards, since the flourishing condition of the treasury has allowed the finance committee of the executive council to recommend a large number of loans. In determining the assets of the insular government, these loans are quite a factor. Payments upon their principal and interest are made monthly to the insular government. Of the loans to municipalities $69,484.86 was repaid within the year under review, and of the loans to school boards $18,746.49 was repaid. These repayments are authorized by the municipalities in the ordinance which specifies the terms upon which the loan is to be made, which ordinance comes before the executive council for approval. This class of loans is highly satisfactory to the insular government, since it has the best kind of security. The property taxes of the several municipalities are collected by the insular government and turned over to them monthly. Monthly deductions are first made by the insular government, however, on account of repayment of principal and payment of interest on its loans, from the property taxes of the respective municipalities to which loans have been made.

RECOMMENDATIONS, EXAMINATIONS.

I feel it is also of great importance that there should exist uniform methods of accounting and bookkeeping in all the branches of government and municipal work, making investigations rapid and easy for the auditor's office, and a knowledge of actual conditions easily obtainable by the taxpayers. The results of my examinations of the accounts of the secretaries and marshals of the various courts in the island decided me to install a new system of accounting for the courts. However, lack of appropriation with which to buy the new books of record and forms has made it impossible up to now to remedy these conditions. Therefore I have recommended that an item be inserted in the appropriation for the maintenance of the courts so as to provide them with a uniform and simplified accounting system.

I have also urged the revision of the laws referring to the distribution of fines and fees collected in the courts. Some of these at present go to the several municipalities, some to the insular treasury, and proportionate parts to the University of Porto Rico. The laws should be harmonized in this respect.

I believe a wise practice would be for this department to exercise a right to inspect the books of the various charitable institutions for whose assistance appropriations have been made by the legislature. Periodical examinations should be made which (involving a scrutiny of the expenditures and receipts from all sources) would practically partake of the nature of an audit. As a result of such an examination, payment of further money by the people of Porto Rico could, if found necessary, be withheld, until conditions were made to conform to proper business requirements. However, lack of sufficient office force would again in this instance prevent such examinations being undertaken at the present time. I further consider as of the greatest importance that a firm of auditors be engaged to make a complete examination of the transactions of the auditor's office since the beginning of the civil government. It is evident that the auditor's office, checking as it does the various other activities of insular administration, should in its turn be examined.

COMMENTS AND COMPARISONS UPON THE AUDITED FIGURES FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1906–7.

At the close of the fiscal year 1906–7 the balance in the treasury arising from regular receipts of the insular government was over twice that of the beginning of the year, as is shown by Exhibit A. This is without including money received from the bond sale, $1,059,753.08. The appropriations for the fiscal year 1907–8 are, however, considerably larger than those of 1906–7, including, as those of this year do, provision for considerable expenditures for permanent improvements. With the increased expenditures in this fiscal year and the large amount of work that will be done under the bond act, it is expected that the cash balance in the treasury at June 30, 1908, will be much reduced.

The financial transactions of the insular government for the past fiscal year are set forth in Exhibit B and the twelve schedules relating thereto. The receipts of the insular government have shown a uniform increase. Customs receipts, that for the former fiscal year were but $716,111.20, rose in the year under review to $1,138,555.61. Eleven of the twelve months of the year show an increase, the most notable of which was that of September, 1906, $108,004, over September, 1905, $22,000.

Internal revenue, as shown in this report—$2,131,675.37—consists of receipts from the excise tax, the inheritance tax, and the property tax, the latter being only 15 per cent of the general property tax of the island, while the other 85 per cent goes to the municipalities. In former years the annual report has included in "internal revenues" the portion of the property tax that has been collected for the municipalities by the insular government. If this had been done in the year under review, the comparison would be very favorable, i. e., for the fiscal year 1906–7, $3,195,815.95, for the fiscal year 1905–6, $2,367,279.27. While wrong in principle, the practice of taking up the receipts from property taxes that are collected on behalf of the municipalities as "insular revenues—internal revenue," instead of as "trust funds," was continued up to June 30, 1907. It had been thought impracticable to take the collections from property tax and place on the books the insular government's portion as insular revenues and the municipalities' portion as trust funds. I believe, however, that this is practicable, and in order to properly show the insular revenues and trust funds I have made this change to take effect July 1, 1907, and also in this report for the fiscal year under review, as shown in Exhibit B.

The heading "Miscellaneous receipts," which is made up of a large variety of items as appears in schedule No. 3, has shown a considerable increase over last year, the figures being for 1906–7, $258,051.77, and for 1905–6, $199,402.67. Practically all the important items under this heading have shown healthy increases in harmony with the general prosperity of the island.

The bond issue of $1,000,000, which netted the insular government $1,048,975.30, has been amply provided for by a property tax uniform throughout the island of one-tenth of 1 per cent. On January 1 of each year $50,000 of the bonds become due and the interest for the first year at 4 per cent will amount to $40,000. The interest charge will be gradually reduced, due to the yearly redemption above referred to. The collections for interest and redemption, known as the insular bond redemption tax, as shown under insular revenues, amounted, up to June 30, 1907, to $92,667.57, which indicates that the collections from this tax are fully capable of taking care of the interest and redemption payments.

Sales to the governmental departments by the bureau of printing and supplies aggregated in the past year $23,117.65. The bills for printing and supplies rendered by the bureau to the several departments are approved by the department head interested, and by means of a transfer letter the department receiving the work is charged and the bureau credited with the amount thereof upon the books of the auditor and the treasurer.

Trust fund receipts—taxes collected for the municipalities by the insular government, $1,217,934.46—are shown in detail in schedule No. 5. The municipal property tax is subdivided into three funds—general, school, and road. It is the most important of the taxes collected for the municipalities, and consists of eighty-five one-hundredths of the 1 per cent general property tax, the other fifteen one-hundredths going to the insular government. Of the municipal portion of this tax 72 per cent constitutes the general fund, 20 per cent the school fund, and 8 per cent the road fund.

The school tax, which should not be confused with an entirely distinct fund called the school fund, is of the municipal taxes, probably next in importance. In most of the municipalities of the island it is derived from a property tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent. In some of them there is no school tax, and there are three in which the tax is somewhat under the one-tenth of 1 per cent. The municipalities of San Juan, Mayaguez, Ponce, and Arecibo each have a bond-redemption tax varying from twenty-five one hundredths of 1 per cent in Ponce, to seventy one hundredths of 1 per cent in Mayaguez. The collection of $16,883.54 for redemption of certificates of indebtedness has been sufficient to practically complete the paying off of the certificates of indebtedness of the municipalities. Several years ago, when the municipalities were placed upon a sound financial basis, the floating indebtedness was carefully reviewed and certificates issued therefor, which certificates, with the exception of two that are supposed to be lost, are now entirely redeemed.

The bond issue of $1,000,000 which was provided for by the law approved March 8, 1906, and that approved February 13, 1907, was successfully floated last April, at a very favorable figure, which was largely due, I believe, to the offer of the United States Treasury Department to accept these bonds as security for public deposits under the same conditions as the Philippine bonds, viz, "that the Department would accept the 4 per cent gold Porto Rico bonds at par as security for public deposits should further deposits be made, and permit them to be substituted for government bonds now held as security for deposits, on condition that the government bonds thus released be used as security for additional circulation, whenever, in the judgment of the Secretary of the Treasury, it is desirable to stimulate an increase in national bank circulation." The amount realized from the sale was $1,048,975.30, as shown in Exhibit B.

The proceeds of the bond sale are to be used for the construction of many roads in various parts of the island, which work has already begun. Temporarily this bond money has been deposited in New York with Messrs. J. and W. Seligman & Co., but as the work upon the roads progresses this fund will be drawn upon. The bonds bear interest at 4 per cent, payable semiannually, January 1 and July 1, and are redeemable at the rate of $50,000 on January 1 of each year, so that at the end of twenty years the debt will have been extinguished. Up to June 30, 1907, the expenditures on account of the bond sale were very small, as is shown in Exhibit E of this report. Since June 30, however, many additional transfers have been made from the proceeds of the loan to specific headings representing portions of the work, and the expenditures of these funds have considerably increased.

Trust-fund receipts, miscellaneous, $266,770.71, is made up of sundry items that are shown in detail in schedule No. 6. The item of school building fund, $80,000, is a transfer of that amount from insular revenues to trust funds. The legislative assembly appropriated $80,000, providing that it should be transferred to trust funds for building additional schools throughout the island. The university fund, $20,353.62, was made up by fees and fines and other items turned over to it in accordance with the university law, approved March 3, 1904, and also sales of products of the agricultural department of the university.

The transfer of the insular bond redemption tax fund (amounting at the time of the transfer to $86,296.55) from insular revenues to trust funds is shown in "Trust fund receipts." This was made because it was felt that as a tax for a special purpose it should best be considered trust funds. All collections on account of this tax are now being placed in the trust fund account, from which the bond interest and the yearly payment on the principal of the debt are being paid. The contra of this transfer is included in the transfer item of $182,946.62 under insular revenue expenditures.

The item "Accrued interest from bond sale," amounting to $10,777.78, was the amount of interest that had accrued on the bonds at the date of their sale, April 8, 1907, and which was payable to the insular government by the purchasers.

Expenditures of insular revenues have been subdivided into legislative, executive, judicial, and miscellaneous, and loans to municipalities and school boards. There has occurred no important change in the legislative expenditures for the fiscal year under review.

The executive expenditures have shown a considerable increase. The total audited expenditures under this head for the fiscal year 1905–6 amounted to $1,964,644.10, whereas for the fiscal year 1906–7 they were $2,354,732.44. As accounting for this increased expenditure there may be noted an increase in the salaries of the office of the treasurer from $85,888.16 in the former year, to $101,727.13 in the present year, though this increase was partly offset by a decrease in the expenses of the office of the treasurer from $44,690.06 to $38,922.07 in the present year. The most notable increase occurs in the expenditures of the department of the interior, the total expenditures of that department for the fiscal year 1905–6 being $369,063.46, and for the fiscal year 1906–7, $558,882.29. The main items that make up this increase of approximately $190,000 are the expenditures for "Construction, maintenance, and repairs of roads and bridges," in the fiscal year 1905–6, $167,905.56, and in the fiscal year 1906–7, $290,665.96. Upon maintenance and repairs of public buildings there was $29,176.01 spent in the fiscal year 1905–6, and in the fiscal year 1906–7, $43,092.57. There has also been a considerable increase in expenditures for work on the insular roads. In 1905–6 the amount expended for complete construction of various insular roads was $11,013.70. In the fiscal year 1906–7, there was spent for completion of various roads $37,926.52; for the Catano-Pueblo Viejo road, $1,023; for the construction of various roads, $4,277.84; and for survey of insular roads, $1,874.06. There has also been some increase in the expenditures for the insular telegraph, due to extending the telegraph system to points that have not been reached before. There has also been made during the past fiscal year a number of expenditures by the department of the interior on account of permanent improvements, such as the construction of the new jail at Arecibo, the erection of a second story on the penitentiary, repairs to the military barracks at Mayaguez, and the extension of the intendencia building, which in their aggregate involved the expenditure of several thousand dollars more in the year 1906–7 than was spent on similar improvements in 1905–6.

There has been a moderate increase in the expenditures of the department of education in the fiscal year 1906-7 over those for the fiscal year 1905-6. Probably the most noteworthy difference between the expenditures of the two years is the increase in common school salaries from $396,672.85 in 1905-6 to $434,230.89 in 1906-7.

The expenditures of the insular police for the fiscal year 1906-7 were $415,646.44, and for the fiscal year 1905-6, $344,399.04, showing a considerable increase, which was mostly due to the increased salaries of the police force. The expenditures on this account for the fiscal year 1905-6 were $310,009.57, and for the fiscal year 1906-7, $374,629.97. In this connection I would strongly urge greater promptness in the forwarding of travel and other vouchers of the police to the auditor's office. At times vouchers over a year old have been presented, rendering much more difficult the work of examination of these vouchers and making attempted frauds on the government much harder to detect.

The biennial elections which occurred last November gave rise to an expense of $42,548.75, whereas in the fiscal year 1905-6 there was no election expense.

In the fiscal year 1906-7 the expenditures for the suppression of anemia were considerably increased over those of the year 1905-6, the commission expending in the year under review $44,077.88, whereas the expenditures in the former fiscal year for this purpose were but $12,836.14.

The expenses of the Porto Rico code commission in the fiscal year 1906–7 amounted to $5,786.75, which expenditure has no counterpart in 1905–6.

The judicial expenditures for the year under review are very much the same as those of the former fiscal year, being $356,842.92 in 1906–7 and $338,575.59 in 1905–6. The small difference is due to an increase in the expenditures of the United States district court from $34,656.32 in the fiscal year 1905–6 to $37,400.11 in the fiscal year 1906–7, and an increase in the expenditures of the insular courts from $264,506.22 in the fiscal year 1905–6 to $279,944.83 in 1906–7. Loans to municipalities, $119,817.63, and loans to school boards, $21,250, as shown in Exhibits C and D, respectively, are discussed in detail in another page of this report.

In the receipt side of this account the amount of $1,064,140.58 has been taken from insular revenues, as shown by the books of the auditor's office, and added to trust funds. In the expenditure side of this account the amount of $978,787.83 has been taken from insular revenues, as shown by the books of the auditor's office, and added to trust funds.

These changes are made to more properly state the account by taking from insular revenue receipts and expenditures the taxes collected for the municipalities and including all such collections in trust-fund receipts and expenditures, as they are clearly of the nature of trust funds. (For comment thereon, see page 19 of this report.)

REPORT OF EXCISE BOARD, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, FOR YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1907.

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA TRANSMITTING A REPORT OF THE OPERATIONS OF THE EXCISE BOARD FOR THE LICENSE YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1907.

MARCH 3, 1908.—Referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia and ordered to be printed.

OFFICE COMMISSIONERS, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
Washington, March 3, 1908.

SIR: The Commissioners of the District of Columbia have the honor to transmit herewith a report of the operations of the excise board of the District of Columbia for the license year ending October 31, 1907, pursuant to the requirements of section 2 of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1893, entitled "An act regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia."

Very respectfully,

HENRY B. F. MACFARLAND,
President Board of Commissioners District of Columbia.

Hon. JOSEPH G. CANNON,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

OFFICE EXCISE BOARD OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
Washington, March 3, 1908.

SIR: Pursuant to section 2 of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1893, entitled "An act regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia," the excise board of the District of Columbia, composed of the board of assistant assessors, has the honor to submit a report of the operations of said board for the license year ending October 31, 1907. During said year, which commenced November 1, 1906, 521 applications for barroom licenses were granted and 27 were rejected; 142 applications for wholesale liquor licenses were favorably acted upon and 10 were rejected.

Number of licensed liquor places in each police precinct for the year ending October 31, 1907.

From October 1, 1907, to March 3, 1908, 529 applications for barroom licenses have been filed, of which number 495 have been allowed, 4 rejected, and 30 are pending. There were 141 applications for wholesale liquor licenses filed, of which number 137 have been granted, 2 rejected, and 2 are pending.

From March 3, 1907, to March 2, 1908, 110 persons were convicted of violating the excise law; of this number 4 were licensed dealers. The amount of fines imposed by the police court during said period was $39,025, of which amount $1,340.83 was paid, leaving $37,684.17 of said amount uncollected. This large amount uncollected is accounted for because many persons convicted serve out a workhouse or jail sentence instead of paying the fine imposed. During said period 26 persons were permitted to forfeit collateral amounting to $3,600 for a violation of said law; of this number 12 were licensed dealers.

USELESS PAPERS IN TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

LETTER

FROM

THE ACTING SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

SUBMITTING

SCHEDULES OF PAPERS, DOCUMENTS, ETC., ON THE FILES OF THE DEPARTMENT AND OF NO FURTHER USE IN THE TRANSACTION OF THE PUBLIC BUSINESS.

MARCH 13, 1908.—Referred to the Joint Select Committee on Disposition of Useless Executive Papers and ordered to be printed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, March 11, 1908.

SIR: In conformity with the provisions of the act of Congress approved February 16, 1889 (25 Stat. L., 672), as amended by sundry civil act approved March 2, 1895 (28 Stat. L., 933), I have the honor to transmit herewith schedules of papers, documents, etc., on the files of this Department which are not needed in the transaction of the public business, and have no permanent value or historical interest.

Copies of correspondence relative to papers, etc., of the character above described, pertaining to the customs service in Boston, Mass., and Albany, N. Y., are also transmitted, in accordance with the provisions of the acts cited.

It is requested that the matter be given immediate consideration, as the space now occupied by useless papers is urgently needed in the transaction of the current business.

Respectfully,

BEEKMAN WINTHROP,
Acting Secretary.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF AUDITOR FOR WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, February 25, 1908.

SIR: Referring to your circular letter of the 29th ultimo and to your indorsement of the 17th instant on certain papers herewith returned to you, requesting me to prepare lists in triplicate of such papers, documents, etc., in this office as in my judgment are not needed or useful in the transaction of current business and have no permanent value or historical interest, and to transmit said lists to your office, I have to submit the following lists, which include all such property now on hand and all previously reported at various times and not finally acted upon:

Room 221:
- 74 pamphlet copies of "Army list and directory."
- 16 volumes "Register of payments" (from P. M. G. O.).
- 29 clerks' blotters.
- 1 attorney's book (1865–66).
- 14 "Digest of appropriations."
- 1 "Longevity record."
- 37 miscellaneous unbound pamphlets.

Room 223:
- 10 copies "U. S. Army regulations," obsolete.
- 7 "Paymaster's manual."
- 6 "Table of distances," obsolete.
- 1 "Army register," 1902.
- 2 "Government salary tables."
- 1 "Report U. S. Civil Service Commission."
- 2 letter-press copy books.
- 4 pamphlet "Army registers."
- 152 blueprints (ordnance).
- 14 clerks' blotters.
- 1 time book.

Room 227:
- 8 "Table of Distances."
- 10 "Pay Tables."
- 3 "Paymasters' Manuals."
- 1 "Longevity Record."
- 8 "Official Railway Guides."
- 4 "Army Registers" (unbound).

Room 410:
- 5 "Digests of Appropriations."
- 4 record books.

Basement, Winder Building: At least a cartload of blueprints and other obsolete papers, pamphlets, books, and records, which were reported by this office in January, 1904, for condemnation.

E street building, 3,030 bundles, 1,188 boxes; and Cox Building, 1,442 boxes of returns of clothing, camp and garrison equipage, which bundles and boxes appear to be of no further utility.

The Quartermaster-General, however, under date of September 7, 1907, in the second indorsement on the within papers, recommends that "all such returns rendered by chief, depot, and other disbursing quartermasters be retained and not destroyed, as there is a possibility of their being required for use in connection with claims against the United States which are liable to arise at any time."

In view of said recommendation, I recommend that all said bundles and boxes, 5,660 in number, be turned over to the War Department, which now has charge, under the act of March 29, 1894 (28 Stat. L., 47), of such returns. The aforesaid returns cover the period from 1888 to 1894.

Respectfully,

B. F. HARPER, Auditor.

The CHIEF CLERK,
Treasury Department.

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE,
OFFICE OF THE COLLECTOR,
Port of Boston, Mass., February 13, 1908.

SIR: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of Department letter of date January 27, 1908, office of the chief clerk and superintendent, in which I am requested to prepare a list of such record books, papers, and documents in my charge as in my judgment have no permanent value or historical interest, to aid the Department in securing legislation authorizing the disposition of useless papers. The matter has been given careful attention, and the list follows:

Books and papers now in the record room or in lofts at the appraisers' stores.

BOOKS.

Bond books containing various bonds executed prior to July, 1898; provided that no book containing bonds not canceled or closed shall be destroyed.

Prior to January 1, 1900:
- Drawback clearance certificates and stubs.
- Record of exportation of spirits.
- Record of debenture entries.
- Copies of abstracts of imports and exports.

Prior to January 1, 1903:
- Warehousing and rewarehousing ledgers.
- Daily register of goods received from other ports.
- Warehouse storage books.
- Certificate book stubs to cancel transportation bond.
- Warehouse abstract books, Cat. Nos. 424, 425, 426, 430, 431, 433.
- Impost books.
- Statistical blotters.
- Entry book to trace entries before liquidation.
- Invoice book to show whether appraiser's report has been received.
- Steamer manifest book.
- Serial book, Cat. No. 630A.
- Miscellaneous books, Cat. Nos. 1028, 1035, 1038.
- Duplicate Boston directories prior to 1906.

PAPERS.

Prior to January 1, 1900.
- Bag certificates and extracts from same.
- Requests for certificates of exportation.
- Export entries for drawback and permits.
- Landing certificates.
- Tobacco and oleomargarine papers.
- Spirit entries.
- Bills of lading for drawback exports.

Prior to January 1, 1903.
- Inspectors' returns of discharge of vessels, with permits to land and passengers' declarations.
- American consular triplicate invoices of imported merchandise.
- Storekeepers' inward and outward returns, with permits.
- Immediate transportation entries or merchandise from Boston, with manifests; also such entries and manifests received at Boston from other ports.
- Transportation and export entries from other ports, with manifests.
- Warehouse and transportation entries and withdrawals from other ports, with manifests.
- Boarding officers' daily reports of arrival of vessels to January 1, 1903. Copy of same is made in a book.
- Forms and blanks which have been superseded.
- Miscellaneous printed matter.

Prior to January 1, 1907.
- Fee tickets.
- United States consular bills of health filed on entries of vessels.

The papers are filed in boxes, and are in fair condition. The books are in open racks in dirty lofts, and are covered with the accumulated dust of years.

The entire weight of the books and papers above named is estimated at 23 tons.

The naval officer reports the following books and papers, which are stored in the lofts at the appraisers' stores:

BOOKS.

Impost books, records of manifests, warehouse ledgers, cash books, and fee books prior to January 1, 1900, estimated weight, 1 ton.

Miscellaneous pamphlets and printed matter, estimated weight, one-half ton.

PAPERS.

Receipts of deposits of collector with assistant United States treasurer, Boston, prior to 1907.

Surveyor's discharge reports and I. T. and all export entries prior to 1900.

Inward foreign entries and manifests prior to the adoption of the Dingley tariff, in 1897.

Estimated weight of papers, a few hundred pounds.

There are in the Auditor's office:

BOOKS.

Old "Daily Blotters" used in connection with daily balances, etc.

PAPERS.

Old duplicate estimates for funds.

Total weight, 200 pounds.

There are in the cashier's office: Fee tickets, cashier's deposit slips, old counterfeit detectors, treasury decisions in pamphlet form, manifold books, Cat. 1008—total weight, about 600 pounds.

There are in the appraiser's office:

3 volumes Spanish nomenclature.
7 volumes Treasury circulars, 1845 to 1874.
16 volumes The Official Register, 1881 and upward.
9 volumes Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, 1892 and upward.
2 volumes General Regulations under the commerce and navigation laws, 1884.
5 volumes internal-revenue records, 1887.
1 volume Customs Regulations, 1874.
28 bottles of ink, said to be worthless on account of being in the fire of 1894.

Total weight, approximately 198 pounds.

Respectfully,

M. A. MUNROE,
Special Deputy Collector.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C.

OFFICE OF THE NAVAL OFFICER OF CUSTOMS,
Boston, Mass., February 21, 1908.

SIR: I submit through you to the Department a special report in regard to ninety-nine cases of entries, manifests, and accompanying papers from 1796 to 1880. These cases are approximately 3 feet by 2 feet by 2 feet, and are stored in the basement of the building occupied by the appraisers. At the time of the fire in the early nineties, which destroyed all the records of the collector's office from 1789 to 1890 and the records of this office from 1880 to 1890, these papers were saved, as they were located in a different part of the building.

The manifests, as will be seen by the inclosed samples, contain the names of passengers on incoming vessels, and in this sense might possess some historic interest or be serviceable in answering individual inquiries. Such inquiries, however, are very rare, and owing to our lack of space the papers are not easily accessible. As most of the people seeking information are unable to give the name of the vessel or the time of her arrival, a search for information is practically impossible.

The papers are apparently of no official use, but containing as they do the only records of the custom-house from 1796 to 1880, the question of their destruction is made a particular inquiry of the Department.

Very respectfully,

JAMES O. LYFORD,
Naval Officer.

Hon. GEORGE H. LYMAN,
Collector of Customs, Boston, Mass.

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE, OFFICE OF THE COLLECTOR,
Boston, Mass., February 24, 1908.

SIR: I transmit herewith for the consideration of the Department a special report, dated February 21, 1908, from the naval officer at this port with regard to 99 cases of entries and manifests and accompanying papers from 1796 to 1880 in the custody of the naval officer. These papers were not referred to in my answer, of the 13th instant, to Department's inquiry of date January 27, 1908, concerning the disposition of useless papers.

Respectfully,

GEORGE H. LYMAN,
Collector.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
February 26, 1908.

Respectfully referred to the Auditor for the Treasury Department for recommendation as to the propriety of destroying the papers referred to within.

W. W. LUDLOW, Chief Clerk.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE AUDITOR FOR THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
March 2, 1908.

Respectfully returned to the chief clerk of the Treasury.

The samples marked N. G. and papers similar to them may be destroyed as of no value to the Government.

Those dated 1818, 1860, and 1877 are regular customs entries, and being now the only record of transactions in the custom-house, this office does not feel justified to recommend the destruction of the papers of which they are samples.

S. J. ABBOTT, Deputy Auditor.

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE, OFFICE OF THE SURVEYOR,
Albany, N. Y., February 20, 1908.

SIR: We have a storeroom in connection with our offices, in which we place all old papers and entries, together with record books, printed reports of the several departments, and anything which has passed usefulness. Said storeroom has become so congested that it is almost impossible to place any more things in it. Some of the old reports date back fifteen and twenty years.

Kindly advise us to what extent we may dispose of useless papers, books, etc., and the manner in which we may do so.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM BARNES, JR.,
Surveyor.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C.

UNITED STATES CUSTOMS SERVICE, OFFICE OF THE SURVEYOR,
Albany, N. Y., March 6, 1908.

SIR: Referring to your letter of February 25, 1908, requesting us to forward samples showing the character of useless papers, books, etc., which are in our storeroom, I beg to state that we are sending you under separate cover to-day samples as stated.

In addition to these we have large bundles of old manifests, entries, enrollments, licenses, inspection certificates, and old papers which are of no use, as they are kept in book form. Kindly instruct as to how far back we may destroy the latter named.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM BARNES, JR., Surveyor.

The SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,
Washington, D. C.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
March 9, 1908.

Respectfully referred to the Auditor for the Treasury Department for recommendation as to the propriety of destroying the papers, etc., referred to within.

W. W. LUDLOW, Chief Clerk.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF AUDITOR FOR THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
March 9, 1908.

Respectfully returned to the chief clerk of the Treasury Department.

All books and papers, samples of which have been submitted and are herewith returned, may be destroyed.

Also all old manifests, all old entries, except those of merchandise, and all old papers described as of no use.

Enrollments, licenses, and inspection certificates pertain to the Department of Commerce and Labor.

S. J. ABBOTT, Acting Auditor.

USELESS PAPERS IN COMMERCE AND LABOR DEPARTMENT.

LETTER

FROM

THE SECRETARY OF COMMERCE AND LABOR,

TRANSMITTING

A SCHEDULE OF DOCUMENTS AND PAPERS NOT NECESSARY FOR THE TRANSACTION OF THE PUBLIC BUSINESS.

MARCH 17, 1908.—Referred to the Joint Select Committee on Disposition of Useless Executive Papers and ordered to be printed.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND LABOR,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, March 16, 1908.

SIR: Pursuant to the provisions of the act of Congress entitled "An act to authorize and provide for the disposition of useless papers in the Executive Departments," approved February 16, 1889, as amended by the act approved March 2, 1895, I have the honor to report that there is in this Department an accumulation of documents and files of papers which are not needed or useful in the transaction of the current business of the Department and have no permanent value or historical interest, as shown by the statement of their condition and character transmitted herewith.

It is recommended that authority be granted for the disposition of the documents and files of papers mentioned, to the end that they may be sold as waste paper or otherwise disposed of in accordance with law.

A copy of this letter has been furnished the President of the Senate.

Respectfully,

OSCAR S. STRAUS,
Secretary.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
Washington, D. C.

O

60TH CONGRESS, 1st Session. } HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. } DOCUMENT No. 913.

DOCUMENTS RECEIVED AND DISTRIBUTED BY TREASURY DEPARTMENT DURING CALENDAR YEAR 1907.

LETTER

FROM

THE ACTING SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY,

TRANSMITTING

A STATEMENT OF DOCUMENTS RECEIVED AND DISTRIBUTED BY THE DEPARTMENT DURING THE CALENDAR YEAR 1907.

MAY 5, 1908.—Referred to the Committee on Printing and ordered to be printed.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
Washington, May 4, 1908.

SIR: In compliance with the provisions of the act of January 12, 1895, providing for the public printing and binding and the distribution of public documents, I have the honor to transmit herewith a statement of the documents received and distributed by this Department during the calendar year 1907. In addition to the publications enumerated a number of printed circulars and statements have been issued of which no account has been kept.

A record in detail has been kept of the documents received and issued, and duplication in their distribution has been prevented as far as practicable.

Respectfully,

J. B. REYNOLDS,
Acting Secretary.
